Russia Holds to 'No' on Tests Treaty

JFK's Temper May Show in Reaction to Steel

Comment Off Until Press Talk Justice Dept. Is To Probe Boost

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will say what he thinks of U.S. Steel price increase in a statement at his news conference today. He is certain to say he doesn't like it.

The White House said Kennedy would have no comment on the big steel company's action before his televised conference.

No Earlier View

He had said he would make his comments in a statement expected before that time.

That word came from the President at a White House social function Tuesday night.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, said Kennedy received his first word of the 56-per-cent price hike by U.S. Steel from Roger Blough, board chairman of the firm, at a personal meeting in the White House late Tuesday.

Hatcher said Blough requested the appointment, and came from Pittsburgh to see the President. They were together in Kennedy's office for nearly an hour, starting at 5:40 p.m. Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg also was present.

There had been no indication at the time that Kennedy had met with Blough.

Investigation Due

Kennedy also discussed the surprise move with Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers and several Cabinet officers.

The Justice Department has said it will investigate the price move.

Goldberg was among government officials at the White House this morning. Hatcher characterized their meeting with Kennedy as a normal procedure on the day of a news conference. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk also were present.

Hatcher said Kennedy and Goldberg had reviewed events including the steel-price hike and the West Coast maritime strike.

Asked particularly if Kennedy was unhappy at the increase by U.S. Steel, Hatcher said he was sure the President's statement at the news conference will reflect his temper.

He didn't elaborate on the word "temper."

Hodges Is Shocked

Cabinet officers withheld comment. But an official of the Commerce Department said Secretary Luther H. Hodges was concerned, surprised and shocked.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said his House Antitrust subcommittee will begin an inquiry immediately.

Celler called the price hike a selfish, inflationary action and sounded a warning to other steel companies who may be considering following suit.

Chairman Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee is also planning to investigate.

Dirksen Coasts to Win In Illinois; Yates Foe

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Republican leader in the Senate with nearly 28 years service in Congress, coasted to an easy victory in the Illinois primary election Tuesday.

The 66-year-old veteran political campaigner, bidding for a third Senate term, piled up a 6-1 victory over Harley D. Jones, 52, a politically unknown Chicago lawyer.

Dirksen, who made his first race for a Senate seat in 1950 after eight terms as a representative in Congress from the Peoria-Peoria district, will be opposed in the Nov. 6 general election by Sidney R. Yates, 52, a seven-term congressman from Chicago's North Side.

Yates, with the backing of the regular Democratic party organization, won the nomination over Lar Daly of Chicago, who has been unsuccessful in 20 years of running for major offices, including the presidency in 1960. Daly, however, made his strongest showing to date and held Yates' victory margin to about 3-1.

Returns from 9,222 of the state's 10,343 precincts gave Dirksen 611,196 votes to 93,701 for Yates. Yates led Daly 645,649 to 199,548.

The primary, the first in the nation this year, was marked by a lack of spirited races. The voting was comparatively light downstate but was exceptionally heavy in Chicago.

The big turnout in Chicago was attributed to the vote on six bond issues totaling $66 million dollars which had the backing of Mayor Richard J. Daley, the state's Democratic leader. All six of the proposals, calling for public improvements, were defeated in a vote which election officials said appeared the highest in a primary since 1942.

Twenty-one members of Congress won re-nominations, with no close contests. Three Republican House members did not seek re-election.

TEACHERS IN STRIKING MOOD—New York City school teachers went on strike today after voting by a margin of 313 votes Tuesday night to strike the 900 schools. Members are shown here shouting and waving placards calling for the strike action. Charles Cogen, president of the United Federation of Teachers, was turned down in an effort to postpone the strike. As 4,000 teachers picketed schools today some disorder broke out as pupils rioted at a school on Manhattan's Lower East Side. (NEA Telephoto)

Fear Surcharges May Be Drawback For Buffalo Port

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The port of Buffalo may lose a substantial amount of overseas shipping as a result of its being designated a surcharge port for cargo loadings.

An extra rate to shippers out of Buffalo of 10 per cent above steamship lines' published rates were announced recently by the American Great Lakes-Mediterranean Eastbound Freight Conference, representing 11 lines. The rate change goes into effect June 1.

Several Canadian ports are in the surcharge category, but Buffalo becomes the first Great Lakes American port to be so designated. Shipping agents here fear the designation may result in similar surcharges by other conferences.

Disorder Erupts in NY Strike

Students Riot As Teachers Picket

NEW YORK (AP)—A teacher strike for more pay disrupted school operations throughout the city today and led to a pupil riot at a school on Manhattan's Lower East Side.

The disorder erupted at the Seward Park High School shortly after the bell rang for morning classes. Rowdiness broke out among 2,300 pupils who had first gathered in the auditorium.

Ordered From School

They began throwing papers out the windows then were ordered from the school when 15 non-striking teachers and four policemen were unable to control them.

As the pupils reached the street, about half a dozen boys began swinging wildly at each other as hundreds of others milled about. Police waded in to halt the battle. Reinforcements were summoned.

Police expressed belief that the presence of a television truck and camera crew recording the scene may have prompted the students to put on something of a show. Most of the school's teachers were marching in a picket line around the building.

There were conflicting reports on the immediate effectiveness of the strike from a citywide standpoint. Authorities sought to keep classes going with teachers who did not join in the walkout.

Over 4,000 Picket

Representatives of the teachers union that struck claimed that schools other than Seward Park had been forced to close. The Board of Education denied it.

A union spokesman said he expected most of the city's schools would be closed sooner or later. He said more than 4,000 teachers were picketing. This would be about one-tenth the total employed.

The striking teachers defied both nonstrike laws and threats of dismissal to stage their walkout, called in protest of what they termed a starvation budget.

At a meeting attended by 5,000 of the 40,000 teachers Tuesday night, members of the United Federation of Teachers shouted down President Charles Cogen's post-nomement plea and elected by a margin of 313 votes to strike the 900 schools.

30,000 to Stay Away

The union leadership immediately closed ranks. It was predicted that up to 10,000 teachers would be on the picket lines today and that at least 30,000 would fail to show up for work.

The federation, which has 15,000 members, is the bargaining agent for all 40,000 public school teachers.

The city ordered 1,200 policemen and an undisclosed number of plainclothes detectives to special strike duty.

MacArthur First To Get Medal for Civilian Service

NEW YORK (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur was honored Tuesday as the first recipient of a medal bearing his name and profile.

It was awarded to MacArthur for his "achievements as a citizen, statesman and soldier" by the New York Commandery of the Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States.

The medal will be presented each year to a resident of this area "who has contributed to the progress of the community in a non-military field of endeavor, such as business, science or the arts."

Lions Exposition Is Attended by 2,280 1st Night

The Kingston Lions Club 15th Annual Industrial Exposition and Home Show opened at the National Guard Armory Tuesday night with a record attendance for the 15 years of 2,280 paid spectators. The show, with a record number of booths, will continue through Saturday evening.

The first 200 ladies in attendance tonight and Thursday will again receive Hawaiian Orchids.

A continuous line of spectators filed past the replica of the Mercury Space Capsule standing 26 feet high. The capsule is on loan from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

As promised by the Lions Club, the entire format of the show was updated, and more colorful than past years. The theme of this year's show is "Diversification" as shown by the

To Query Witnesses On Police Meeting

Two Republican and three Democratic party members of a special Common Council subcommittee investigating the reported disclosure of details of a March 22 Police Board meeting to WGHQ reporter Tom Lacue will conduct the first session of a hearing tonight at 7:30 in the courtroom at City Hall.

Alderman Donald M. Hastings (D-Third Ward) the committee chairman, said today the hearing will proceed on two scopes: First, to find out if Mayor John J. Schwenk made a statement on agreement with the police commissioners and asked for resignations. Secondly, to find out if an unauthorized person in City Hall made a statement relative to the police board meeting.

Alderman Hastings said if an overflow of persons crowd the city court room tonight, the hearing will be held in the Common Council chamber. The committee chairman said subpoenas had been issued to witnesses called to testify tonight, but he declined to disclose their identity until they appear at the hearing.

Not All Subpoenaed

Hastings said that subpoenas had been issued to some members of the Police Board, but added that not all had been served.

On the committee are Donald M. Hastings, (D) Third Ward, chairman, Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, council majority leader; Francis R. Koenig (D) Ninth Ward; Clark W. Myers (R) Second Ward and Edward J. Schrowang (R) First Ward.

Mayor Schwenk and Republican party minority members of the special subcommittee from the Common Council made statements to reporters after Tuesday night's meeting with the police commissioners.

The meeting, a special one of the police board, was called by the mayor, who issued invitations to the investigating committee to attend. Democrats serving on the committee did not attend, but the two Republicans did and issued statements after the session as did the mayor.

Their Explanations

Kennedy Act Is Likely Today in Shipping Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is expected to issue orders today that could result in a court-directed stop of the West Coast shipping strike by nightfall. Justice Department attorneys were reported already in San Francisco ready to go into court with an 80-day injunction plea as soon as they get the signal from Washington.

In Fourth Week

The strike, now in its fourth week, has crippled West Coast shipping and curtailed delivery of vital supplies to the island State of Hawaii. Gov. William F. Quinn has declared a food emergency in the islands and appealed to the White House to intervene.

Officials practically ruled out the chances of an 11th-hour settlement.

The employer organization involved in the West Coast dispute, the Pacific Maritime Association, had offered the three unions in

Kennedy Is Going On With Plans

Macmillan Makes Appeal to Khrush

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain appeared today to be completely stalled against an unyielding wall of Soviet opposition in their last-ditch effort to get Moscow's agreement to an enforceable treaty banning nuclear tests.

While formally expressing hope that Soviet Premier Khrushchev will yet reverse his policy against an international inspection system to police a test ban, officials here actually see no prospect that this will happen.

Going Ahead With Plans

President Kennedy is therefore going ahead with plans to start atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons in about two weeks. The tests will be held over the Central Pacific during a period of about two months, and officials indicate that there will be between 30 and 40 nuclear explosions involved.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan told the House of Commons in London Tuesday that he will go on pressing for East-West agreement on a test ban "to the last possible moment."

Under Greater Pressure

It became apparent Tuesday that while Kennedy has shown reluctance to go into the test series, Macmillan is under much greater home-front political pressure to continue demonstrating the desire to put an end to all tests.

By agreement between Kennedy and Macmillan, the United States and Britain issued a joint statement which amounted to a warning to the Russians and to the world that without a change in the Soviet position, "the test series scheduled for the latter part of this month will go forward."

Sends Personal Message

Macmillan also sent a new personal message to Khrushchev (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Howard S. Pangburn, 64, of 10 Clifton Terrace, for nine years a member and former president of the Kingston Water Board and well-known insurance man, died Tuesday after a short illness.

Mr. Pangburn for the past 20 years has been manager and secretary-treasurer of the Olive Co-operative Fire Insurance Company. Governor and Welfare Department Not In Agreement With Mahoney on 3 Bills

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney was in a familiar position today—at odds with Gov. Rockefeller and the State Welfare Department.

The Buffalo senator, one of the state's most severe and powerful critics of present relief policies, said three bills signed Tuesday by the governor represented "a new concept of efficiency and research" in relief. Mahoney sponsored the bills.

But neither the governor nor the Welfare Department appeared to share this view.

The bills appropriated a total of $275,000 to finance additional studies of ways to cut relief costs, now more than $500 million a year in the state, to expand machinery for detecting fraud among welfare recipients, to simplify welfare rules and to allow the welfare department to establish on-the-job training programs for welfare workers.

The measures were among several signed by the governor as he continued to deal with bills left him by the 1962 Legislature when it adjourned March 31. He has until April 30 to complete action.

The governor approved a bill expanding the work of the State Council on the Arts, created at his recommendation in 1960. The council has sponsored statewide tours of theatrical, and operatic companies. Under the new authority, the council may cooperate with local and regional associations to sponsor such performances.

The governor signed a bill reducing from six to three months the residency requirement for persons seeking hunting and fishing licenses. It waives the residency qualification for college students who live within the state during a full school year.

Rockefeller had no public comment on the Mahoney welfare bills. This was considered significant inasmuch as Rockefeller usually issues a statement commending legislation he considers important at the same time he announces he has signed it.

The governor is looking to a Moreland Act commission be appointed last year, rather than to the legislature, to produce major recommendations in the field of public welfare. The commission now is making its study.

State Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Houston said the Mahoney bills would "strengthen what we already have been doing."

He said the department was conducting studies to find ways to rehabilitate relief recipients and make them self supporting, paid half the cost of attorneys hired by local departments to police relief-rolls in search of fraud and conducted various training programs for welfare workers.

Mahoney said that the welfare measures put the emphasis on "prevention, retraining and rehabilitation, rather than on mere handouts."

The legislation, he said, would "protect the taxpayers and, at the same time, restore dignity and job opportunities to those welfare recipients who are not content with their lot."

July Union Is Hope For Market

Fanfani Attitude Perks Adenauer

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he hopes the first steps toward a political union among the Common Market nations will be completed in July.

Adenauer said he based his hopes on his talks in Italy last week with Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani.

"A solution became apparent which is somewhat different from existing plans but this is not important," Adenauer said during a Bundestag debate on the 1962 budget.

Looking to Paris Meeting

"I hope that there will be agreement with Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg when the foreign ministers of the European Economic Community meet in Paris next week and that it will come to a heads-of-government meeting in Rome in the first half of July, where the first step toward a political union could be attained."

He added that political union could be reached by the nations working toward it patiently, step by step.

The chancellor did not go into details of his discussion with Fanfani. However, authoritative sources said agreement was reached between French President Charles de Gaulle and Fanfani at Turin last week and also at the subsequent Adenauer-Fanfani meeting that the economic policy of the existing communities—the Common Market, Coal-Steel Pool and Euratom—should not be affected by a political union.

Won't Affect Relations

The sources also said that there was agreement by the three government chiefs that political union would not affect the individual nations' relations with the Atlantic Alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military structure.

West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg want a supranational organization related to NATO and the existing communities. De Gaulle, however, has opposed a supranational authority because he wants to play a free hand in advancing French influence.

Note to Clubs

CHICAGO (AP)—No ethical grounds exist for excluding qualified citizens from social clubs or fraternities because of race, religion or ethnic origin, says the board of directors of the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice.

Kingston Savings Impresses Finns In Banking Tour

Two Oulu, Finland, savings bank officials have cited Kingston Savings Bank as "pioneers in the new era of modern banking" and an example to be followed by all banks.

Jonko Jaari, president and managing director of the Workers Savings Bank of Oulu, and his brother, Martti Jaari, administration chief, visited Kingston Savings Bank on March 30 as a part of their tour of comparison and study of methods and functions of savings banks in America.

Arne Aho of the Kingston Garden Center and a member of the Kiwanis Club acted as interpreter during the local visit.

Local Bank Stands Out

Mr. Aho has received a letter from them, excerpts of which he translates as follows:

"As a result of our visit of many banks in the United States and upon becoming acquainted and familiarized with Kingston Savings Bank, President LeFever and Vice President Henze and personnel, we became aware of the outstanding significant qualities pertinent to good modern banking."

"To our minds, the Kingston Savings Bank stood alone above all others as pioneers in the new era of modern banking in a switch to a more appealing atmosphere, acceptable and pleasing to its patrons from the usual formality, but without the cold like atmosphere that tends to make the client uneasy, nervous and sometimes so insignificant that he often did a turn-about without even explaining his needs to the bank's personnel."

Captivated by Warmth

"Immediately upon our introduction to the bank's lobby, we were rather spellbound by its most pleasant atmosphere of warmth and friendship and an air of tranquility as if soothing to the nerves of a client of today's fast pace of our modern society. The heretofore obvious strained and nervous tensions and pressures seemed to be removed, thus tending to relax and set at ease any client as though relaxed in the atmosphere of his own home."

"Most significant was the fact that said bank had just recently been modernized, both in structural design and integral design to meet the complexities of modern banking, but yet succeeded in combining these essentials to blend so well with the innermost human needs and desires of the intimate warmth of a friendly and restful atmosphere. This was indeed a great accomplishment and truly a work of art, since none of the dignity, respect and formality pertinent to good banking was lost."

Rewarding Study

"We have come to the assumption that those responsible for planning and designing said institution toiled elaborately toward the achievement of this goal and we enthusiastically wish to corroborate to their rewarding success."

"We wish to add that, in our opinion, all banks (Savings Banks in particular, to which we are partial) should endeavor to follow in the pattern of the Kingston Savings Bank which, in our minds, could serve as a prototyped monument lending much to the well being of any community."

"We are certain that our visits to many banks in the United States in comparison, study, etc. shall be most rewarding to all concerned in the welfare of better banking."

Legal Advisers Check on Paying For Vets' Reports

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller's legal advisers are studying the constitutionality of state payments for printing annual reports of veterans' organizations.

The state spent $5,500 for such printing during the 1961-62 fiscal year that ended March 31.

The governor vetoed, on constitutional grounds, a bill passed by the 1962 Legislature to pay for printing 1,000 copies of the annual report of the Italian-American War Veterans of the United States Inc.

He referred to a veto message he had released in 1959 when he disapproved a similar bill.

He contended then that the bill was unconstitutional and cited a provision that says "the money of the state shall not be given or loaned to or in aid of any private corporation or association or private undertaking."

However, under the State Printing Law, the state pays for the printing costs of 5,000 annual reports of both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 3,000 reports of both the Jewish War Veterans and Catholic War Veterans, and 1,000 reports for both the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Spanish War Veterans.

Asked about these payments in view of the constitutional ban on state payments to private organizations, the governor's office said the question had been turned over to Rockefeller's counsel, Robert MacCraty.

The funds are administered by the State Division of Military and Naval Affairs. A division spokesman said a $7,500 ceiling had been placed on such printing expenditures.

He added that during the 1961-62 fiscal year expenditures for veterans' printing had totaled $5,500.

Backaches, Teeth Are Subjects for Focus on Health

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Back pains and a way to help artificial teeth work better are medical topics this week: Curing That Aching Back

Psychiatrists, like many other people, do most of their work sitting down.

They don't use many muscles, and a high percentage of them are afflicted with backaches. The reason is mainly too little physical exercise, say Dr. Hans Kraus and Sonya Weber of New York City.

They prescribed muscular fitness tests, and then exercises, for 26 psychoanalysts complaining of low back pain and pain in the upper back, neck, shoulders and legs. After continued regular exercises, eight were free of pain and the rest had definite relief. All improved considerably in muscle strength and flexibility, Dr. Kraus reports.

Denture Fit
Now there's a way to help artificial teeth "grow" so they will meet properly with teeth in the opposing upper or lower jaw.

Natural teeth are continuously erupting, and this allows them to keep meeting despite normal wearing down, explains Dr. Bernard Jankelson of Seattle. When people get false teeth, the original fit may be good, but the wearing process eventually allows a denture to become loose.

In a new technique, porcelain teeth are used in the upper denture, and acrylic or plastic ones in the lower. If wearing occurs so the dentures loosen, a plastic coating can be added to the tops of the lower teeth to bring them into close contact with the uppers again.

Remind Veterans Of Monies Exempt From Tax Lists

Area veterans were issued a final reminder that in filing their federal and state income taxes they need not count as income any payments they have received for veterans benefits, since these payments are wholly tax free. Both Federal and State income taxes must be filed by April 16, 1962. Charles L. Culver, NYS Veterans Counselor, NYS Division of Veterans Affairs and John B. Tyler, director, Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, also said that the proceeds of GI life insurance policies, including the dividends themselves are exempt from tax reporting. However, interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit is not a benefit and is taxable.

Culver and Tyler pointed out that veteran death benefits to families of deceased veterans are tax exempt. They include death compensation and pension, indemnity and all GI insurance payments.

Wiltwyck Board Honors Ferguson

Directors of Wiltwyck Rural Cemetery Association held their annual meeting Monday at the Kirkland Hotel where they tendered John Ferguson, superintendent, a dinner in honor of his 30 years of faithful and excellent service to the Cemetery Association.

Ferguson entered the employ of the Cemetery Association May 1, 1932 and has served as superintendent for the past 18 years.

James H. Betts, Henry Forst and A. B. Shufeldt were re-elected trustees for a term of three years. Officers re-elected are A. H. Chambers, president; James H. Betts, vice president and Oscar J. Lawatsch, secretary-treasurer. Charles del la Vergne, who practiced law in Kingston and now resides in New York City, with a summer home in Woodstock, is a trustee and serves as legal advisor, made the trip to Kingston to attend the meeting. President Chambers appointed Trustees James H. Betts, A. B. Shufeldt and Cloyd Elias as Committee on Superintendents and A. Raymond Atkins, James H. Betts, Oscar Lawatsch and Ward B. Tongue as Committee on Funerals.

Says U.S. Press Could Be Most Effective Weapon

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — "A newspaper is a powerful force in the community, but this force must be wisely exploited and conscientiously deployed for the whole community," the publisher of the Buffalo Evening News says.

James H. Righter, speaking Tuesday at the annual meeting of the New York State Circulation Managers Association, said the newspaper "must serve its readers by leadership and confidence, not by ruthlessness and superiority."

He said there can be no more effective weapon to meet the communist challenge than the American press "so long as it remains true to the doctrine upon which our heritage has been built."

Father Fears Daughter Is Held by Reds Now

CHICAGO (AP) — A distraught father says the Russians trapped his younger daughter behind the Iron Curtain after she returned to Lithuania to marry her high school sweetheart.

"I had warned Regina for a long time that she should not return to (Lithuania) Vilnius," said the father, Paulius Leonas. "I warned her again at the airport. But she didn't want to believe it."

Sets Use of Force
Leonas talked freely but angrily about an article in the Soviet newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda Tuesday. The article quoted his daughter, Regina Leonas, 22, as saying the United States was a money-mad society and that she wanted to stay in her native Lithuania and never return to America.

"Our daughter is an actual prisoner," Leonas said. "She would never have made those statements, because they are contrary to her convictions. She was forced by threats of violence."

"Regina would be ashamed if she saw what has been printed about her."

Regina and her brother were separated from their parents for 16 years during and after World War II. Regina returned to Vilnius, capital of Lithuania, last month to marry Stasys Bikulcius, a young music teacher whom she met in high school.

"I'm prepared to fight—to fight for my own family," Leonas asserted. "Regina had love for that boy, not for Moscow."

Leonas, 45, a real estate broker, said Regina had mixed emotions when she left March 21 for Lithuania, formerly a nation but now a state in the Soviet Union.

Shrugged Off Warning
"She expected happiness in marriage," he said. "She wouldn't believe us when we told her the danger of communism—that the Russians might be setting a trap for her. She had not been entirely happy here because she was lonely for the boy."

Leonas and his wife, Elena, 44, fled their Lithuanian home in 1944 for Germany, leaving Regina and their son, Tomas, now 20, with their maternal grandparents on a farm near Vilnius.

The Leonas' spent three years in Germany, three years in England and three years in Canada before coming to Chicago in 1953. They became citizens in 1959.

From 1944 to 1955, they did not know whether Regina and Tomas were alive.

Mrs. Leonas in 1955 wrote a friend and found that the children were alive. Efforts were initiated to bring them to the United States.

They got a promise from Soviet Premier Khrushchev during his 1959 tour in the United States that Regina and Tomas would be released. They arrived in Chicago in 1960—after 16 years of separation from their parents.

U.S. Steel's 'Catch-Up' Boost Could Set Off New Price Spree

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — What now?

A new wave of price increases and therefore another jump in living costs?

Keep your fingers crossed. A lot of industries using steel will be affected by Tuesday night's announcement of the U.S. Steel Corp. that it is raising the price of steel.

Surprise to JFK
Other steel companies, as a starter, can be expected to start raising prices since the U.S. Steel Corp. usually sets the pattern for the industry.

This sudden move must have been a surprise to the Kennedy administration, judging from what it said just a few weeks ago. It may even have been a surprise to some firms in the steel industry itself.

Only a few hours before the U.S. Steel Corp. announcement President Edmund F. Martin of Bethlehem Steel was telling a stockholders meeting his firm was trying to hold the price line in the face of increasing domestic and foreign competition.

President Kennedy was so delighted when the steel union and the steel industry agreed on a new contract without a wage increase or a strike that he sent both sides telegrams.

He even told David J. McDonald, president of the union, "it is obviously non-inflationary and should provide a solid base for continued price stability."

No Clue to Boost

At the time of the settlement there was no public evidence that the industry, or anyone in it, planned a price increase, at least any time soon.

McDonald seemed so carried away with what he got for his members—when it was quite possible sooner or later the union benefits might affect steel prices—that he said: "let's forget about the price and look at the benefits."

Those benefits amount to about 10 cents an hour more for the workers, whose average wage is $3.28 an hour. The additional 10 cents an hour didn't go into a pay raise but into things like longer vacations, better unemployment pay, more job security.

The industry estimated the cost of the contract at about 2½ per cent of payroll costs. U.S. Steel Corp. prices which went into effect at midnight Tuesday will average about 3½ per cent more than the old prices, roughly $6 more per ton of steel.

Last Boost in '58
U.S. Steel President Leslie B. Worthington said the increase was a "catch-up" adjustment made necessary by a profit squeeze between rising costs and declining prices. The last price boost was in 1958.

The Kennedy administration put a lot of pressure on the industry and the union to reach a settlement before their old contract expired next June 30.

The talks began Feb. 14, an unusually early starting time for the union and industry. By March 28, it was learned, agreement had been reached.

News of this contract—which contained no wage boost, the usual excuse for a price boost—so pleased Kennedy that he told both sides they "deserve great credit for developing this imaginative program."

Tuesday Worthington seemed to be explaining the reason for the new price increase largely in terms of increased costs before this latest settlement.

This raises therefore a question: Did U.S. Steel have this price increase in mind before the settlement and, if so, why didn't U.S. Steel say so then instead of now?

The industry's steel output is

The installation ceremonies will be conducted by members of Red Hook-Rhinebeck Lodge, 2022, B.P.O.E., of which Lester Price is exalted ruler. Members of Kingston Lodge, 550, B.P.O.E., served as installing officials for the Red Hook-Rhinebeck Lodge last Sunday.

The installation at 8:30 p. m. Thursday will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 p. m. at the Elks Lodge, Fair Street.

Other officers to be installed are:

Burton W. Johnson, leading knight; Anthony Cruise, loyal knight; George Karabinos, lecturing knight; Robert McMaines, secretary; Dr. Henry Meinhardt, treasurer; Edgar Marquiss, esquire; Kenneth Peters, past exalted ruler, tiler; James Sweeney, organist; Edward O'Donnell, inner guard; the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain and Joseph Epstein, trustee.

McHugh Stresses Participation In Unity Program

County participation in Bells Across the Nation Day was urged today by Supervisor Jesse McHugh, chairman of the board of supervisors.

The nationwide demonstration of patriotism and national unity will take place Thursday, April 19. Bells in churches, schools and public buildings will be sounded for four minutes starting 1 p. m. The date marks the anniversary of the start of the American Revolution, April 19, 1775.

Supervisor McHugh urged Ulster County residents to display the American flag and otherwise participate in the observance.

making a direct appeal for a modification of Soviet policy with the argument that the purpose of inspection "is not to increase suspicion but to dispel it."

He thus sought to overcome the Soviet contention that the Western powers want to put international inspection teams on Soviet territory for purposes of espionage.

The essence of Macmillan's argument, made many times in recent weeks by U.S. and British leaders, is that without a system of international verification none of the big powers could be sure that a test ban was being faithfully observed, and therefore suspicion of violations would inevitably grow up.

Man Faces Charge

A 42-year-old Kingston man was arrested at 11:45 a. m. today on charges of violating the Unemployment Insurance provisions. James John Norris, of 86 Abel Street, was accused of obtaining unemployment insurance benefits while he was employed, police said. Norris, arrested by Patrolmen Richard Scherer and Garvin Fisher, was ordered held in the county jail pending arraignment before City Judge Joseph D. Saccomani at 9 a. m. Thursday, according to police.

Walt Whitman served as a volunteer nurse in the Civil War and recounted his experiences in a volume of poetry.

Police Continuing Probe on Beating Of MJM Pupil

City detectives today continued investigation of the reported beating of a 14-year-old girl by another pupil at Myron J. Michael School on Tuesday.

The victim of the alleged assault, which was brought to the attention of police yesterday, was identified as Lorraine Kivian, 21 President's Place. She was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment of neck and head injuries, police said. X-rays were taken at the hospital.

The alleged assault took place on the MJM School grounds, school officials told police.

Preliminary investigation was made by Patrolmen Robert Bonesteel and Otto Short, and later turned over to the detective division for further investigation.

pointing out the inaccuracies contained in his broadcast of March 23rd dealing with what had transpired at the special meeting of the Police Board on March 22nd.

"This letter clearly stated that the information contained therein was privileged, and I authorized the sending of this letter by my executive assistant."

"At the following meeting of the Police Board, I informed the commissioners of the action I had taken in connection with the sending of the letter to Mr. Lacue, and the Board unanimously approved the action taken."

Common Council investigating committee Republican minority members Edward J. Schrowang (R-First Ward) and Clark W. Myers (R-Second Ward) after last night's police board meeting attended by Commissioners Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, Dr. William B. Dean, Joseph F. Policanso and Henry Elghemey, said they are now convinced they will have to look further to discover the informant who leaked details of the March 22nd Police Board meeting to Lacue.

Schrowang and Myers noted that Mayor Schwenk revealed he had authorized his executive assistant, Klein, to send a privileged letter to Lacue on March 27, four days after Lacue's March 23rd broadcasts, correcting the faulty facts of Lacue's report, and that the Police Board approved this action unanimously.

"Since the leak did not come from City Hall," Myers and Schrowang said, "we will have to pursue the source further at tonight's (Wednesday) meeting of the investigating committee."

Board Members Asked

The Republican minority aldermen said that last night they asked all members of the Police Board whether they had revealed information about the March 22 meeting to Lacue prior to his March 23 broadcasts, and received a "no" reply from each commissioner.

However, Schrowang and Myers pointed out, that when they asked the commissioners whether they had divulged details about the meeting to any private citizen or official of the city, Commissioner Elghemey was the only one to answer with "no comment."

Schrowang said, "Aldermen Myers and I are both looking forward to Wednesday night's hearing, when we intend to ask Commissioner Elghemey under oath, whether he discussed the March 22nd Police Board meeting with Alderman-at-large Harold Kaye prior to Lacue's March 23rd broadcast, and see if Mr. Elghemey again answers with 'no comment'."

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear mother, Anna Van Steenburgh who God called home 19 years ago today, April 11, 1943.

God saw that you were suffering
And the hills were hard to climb
So he closed your eyes wearily
And he said "Peace be thine."

BOND CITATION FOR STATE WORKERS — M. Nicholas Sinacori (right), Eighth District engineer for the State Department of Public Works, receives a citation from the U. S. Treasury Department in recognition of the excellent record made by DPW employees in his district during the 1961 Savings Bond drive. The presentation was made at DPW headquarters in Albany by Joseph P. Ronan, administrative deputy and department chairman of the campaign. The Eighth District headquarters is at Poughkeepsie.

Army to Renew 'Buy American' Drive in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is planning a renewed "buy American" offensive among its men and families in Europe in a bid to retard the gold-dollar drain.

The new drive would be related to an expected resumption of government-paid travel to Europe by dependents of Army officers and men after a freeze of more than six months.

Pentagon action to permit such dependent travel again is likely soon.

One main reason why the travel ban has been kept in force this long has been a need, as government officials view it, to keep down the volume of dollar spending in Europe. The original reason for ordering the dependent travel suspension was to avoid impeding the movement to Europe of 40,000 Army reinforcements during the Berlin crisis.

Officials said a "buy American" campaign among U.S. military people and their families was successful when the gold-dollar drain was acute about a year ago.

One top authority said, "we're going to come back hard on it again," probably using methods

Conference on Child Health Set April 17

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway Tuesday, April 17 from 9 to 10 a. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and preschool children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

These are well-child clinics for the maintenance of health and prevention of disease, not for the care of the sick child. Children under the regular health supervision of their own physician are not admitted unless the physician desires this service to be taken over by the Child Health Conference. In this manner, duplication of service is avoided, facilitating the work of the private physician.

proved out during the previous campaign.

These methods included personal appeals by top Army officers to buy U.S. goods at post exchanges and to patronize American recreational facilities.

Sportsmen Plan Stocking Project

The Rosendale Sportsmen's Association Inc. held its April meeting on Friday night at the clubhouse, Tillson. There was a large number of members present. It was planned to purchase about 50 pheasants this year and to release them at an early date to let the birds get used to the grounds before the hunting season opens.

Trout stocking was discussed and President Edward Whitaker appointed James Campbell as chairman to serve with John Coddington, Harold Ecklund, Wilfred Doolittle, and George Erts as a committee to make a study on trout stocking and report the findings at the May meeting.

William Curran reported that he had talked with Game Protector Henry Bernstein of Phoenicia and both thought it would be a good idea for the club to sponsor a school of instruction for young hunters. It is now necessary for beginners to hold a certificate from a school of instruction before they can secure a hunting license. Several members offered to assist and plans to hold a school for both guns and bow and arrow hunting will be held at a later date on approval from the State Conservation Department.

A film on quail and turkey hunting in Florida was shown. An attempt to secure two films for the May meeting will be made. Refreshments were served.

Clam Chowder Sale

The Ladies Aid of the Tillson Reformed Church will hold a food sale and homemade chowder will be offered at the church hall starting at 12 noon Friday, April 20. Orders for chowder may be made in advance of the sale. Customers will bring own containers.

The Ladies Aid has set the date for its annual fair and ham supper on July 28. The group has set May 19 as the date for the annual dinner.

Rosendale Vols To Sponsor LL Baseball Team

At a recent meeting Active Hose Company No. One Inc. of the Village of Rosendale adopted a resolution to sponsor a Little League baseball team for the coming season. The meeting was presided over by President Anthony J. Erceg and about 25 members were present.

Plans were made to take part in a bazaar to be held later in the year and also to take part in a fire drill to be carried out with the other local fire companies.

The chief of the Tillson Fire Department has recently appointed the following members as fire police, Peter C. Hoffmann, sergeant; Douglas Sarr, Donald McEvoy, George Segelken and Irving DuBois. These members were approved by the board of fire commissioners and also approved by the Rosendale Town Board at the April meeting.

Events Scheduled

Ernest Hopper director of recreation for the Town of Rosendale has announced that all teenage dances Friday evenings will be held at the Tillson School beginning this weekend.

The Rosendale Women's Club will meet Thursday at the Grange Hall, Rosendale. Two cancer films will be shown. The public may attend.

The Village of Rosendale budget hearing will be held 8 p. m. Friday at the village rooms in the firehouse, Main Street.

Tire Theft Ring Broken

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. attorney's office said today an interstate tire theft ring has been broken with the arrest and indictment of five men, who allegedly stole more than 100 truck tires valued at about $10,000.

The tires were stolen in February from the Somerset Tire Co. at Bound Brook, N.J. Asst. U.S. Atty. Dante M. Scaccia said the tires were transported in a stolen tractor-trailer to Waterford and disposed of in the Albany area.

Among those indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on charges of conspiring to steal and sell the tires were: Thomas R. Hoag of Cohoes; Morris Kaminisky of Albany; and Henry E. Riberdy Jr. of Waterford.

Resigned Month Ago

BOSTON (AP) — Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, resigned as an assistant district attorney of Suffolk County nearly a month ago, it was disclosed Monday.

Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne said Kennedy, 30, tendered his resignation March 14, the day he announced formally as a Democratic candidate for nomination to the U.S. Senate.

"It must have been lost in all the excitement about Ted's announcing," said Byrne.

Death rate from accidents in the United States is about 85 per 100,000 or seven times the toll taken by pneumonia and tuberculosis.

Literary Quotes New Feature of Speeches by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson is going literary.

Johnson, whose 25 years on the national scene have included some rough and tumble politicking, is beginning to stud his speeches with classical and historical references that seldom found their way into his sometimes bluntly phrased remarks in the past.

The feeling among some of his associates is that Johnson is taking a page out of the book of President Kennedy, who operates with an acute sense of history and from a seemingly inexhaustible store of quotations.

Johnson could feel that it would be no drawback to a man who might like to run for president in 1968 to be known as one who has delved into the scholarly accomplishments of the past and can apply them to today's problems.

In his most recent speech, before a Pennsylvania State University audience Tuesday, Johnson cited quotations from Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, Alexis Charles Henri Maurice Clerel de Tonqueville and H. G. Wells to drive home his points.

Four days earlier, in a talk to labor editors, Johnson drew on the wisdom of Edmund Burke, Wendell Phillips, Thomas Jefferson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, Justice Tom C. Clark and the 19th century cartoon character, Mr. Dooley.

The literary and historical outpouring might seem to be an adjunct to the general effort to overhaul the political image of Johnson as a once-provincial Texan and to present him as a well-rounded leader in world affairs.

At the conclusion, Johnson replied in a barely audible and suitably humble voice his thanks and his hopes that he could live up to the high esteem of his colleagues.

Held in Bicycle Theft
Elmer Rice, 26, was arrested by Ellenville state police Tuesday on a charge of petit larceny involving the taking of a bicycle at Kerhonkson. The complainant was Earl Miller of Kerhonkson. Taken before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Town of Wawarsing, Rice was committed to jail pending trial on April 13.

Dudley Will Become Dean of Architecture

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — George A. Dudley, director of the State Office for Regional Development and secretary of the State Planning and Coordination Board, will resign to become dean of the School of Architecture of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Dudley will continue as one of three trustees of the State University Construction Fund, an agency created by the 1962 Legislature to cut red tape and speed expansion of the university system.

Dudley's home is in Bedford Village.

Fear Surcharges

surcharges on imports, would further cripple the port.

Shipping lines claim that Buffalo's cargo-handling and dockage rates are higher than many other Great Lakes ports.

The facilities are operated under a contract with the Niagara Frontier Port Authority by International Marine Terminals Inc., a subsidiary of International Terminal Operators of New York City.

A leading subject of complaint involves cost of flour loading for overseas shipment. Last year, 20,000 tons were shipped from the port of Buffalo. Then the loading cost was $10.20 a ton. It later was cut to $10.10 at the end of the season. Charge for the same work in Chicago is $7.35, in Toledo, $6.25, and Detroit, $5.

To Use Sliding Scale
Marine terminals says it will base its rates this year on a sliding scale based on the speed of loading. It will range from $8.68 a ton for 21 tons or more an hour to $10.65 for 15.9 tons or less an hour.

Much of the flour shipped from Buffalo is government-owned surplus stock. Norman Braun of Buffalo and Cornelius agents for several of the Mediterranean lines, said that even if the government accepts the 10 per cent surcharge rather than ship it by rail to other ports, private shipper "undoubtedly will benefit by shipping through another port."

Negotiators Hopeful
HAVANA (AP) — Negotiators seeking to ransom 1,179 Cuban invasion prisoners appeared hopeful today after a four-hour meeting with Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

"There is hope," said one of the exile delegation of three men and a woman after the long session. A spokesman for the negotiators said they were hopeful the prime minister would see them again.

The delegation refused to give details of their meeting with Castro, held at the home of friends of the negotiators.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Inspired by U.S. Steel's price boost, steel shares paced a vigorous stock market advance today. Trading was active.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.50 at 256.10 with industrials up 2.70, rails up .60 and utilities up .50.

The steels held gains exceeding a point, paring initial gains which ran to 3 points or better for some.

Overnight news of U.S. Steel's $6 a ton price increase brought swarms of buyers to the steels which were traded on sizable blocks at the opening. Trading was the heaviest in the week.

Traders took profits soon after, however, as Wall Street awaited President Kennedy's comments, due after the close.

The rest of the market also moved higher, but more moderately than the steels.

U.S. Steel was up 2 1/2, but later halved the gain. The second biggest steel producer, Bethlehem, was up 1 1/2 at the start, then cut its gain in half, showing no response to news that it also had raised prices.

Youngstown Sheet shaded an original 3-point spurt. Lukens was up 2. Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin held gains exceeding a point.

Tobacco also continued their recovery from recent losses, making gains of a point or better.

Polaroid rose 3. Du Pont cut a 3-point gain to 2.

Rails generally were higher.

The younger Leonti was the state's chief witness against his father almost three decades ago. Then 17, he testified in the first-degree murder trial of his father, Giuseppe, for the slaying of the youth's sister, Mrs. Anna Natale, 19.

An all-male jury convicted Joseph Leonti Tuesday of first-degree murder in the stabbing of his landlady, Evelyn Williams, 63, last May 27.

WILDLIFE EXHIBIT with Joe Steeley, New York State Conservation biologist in charge, goes big with youngsters at the Lions Exposition.

Lions Exposition

Woodstock Rotary Club and their exhibition of paintings and sculpture work by Woodstock Artists.

Joe Steeley, New York State Conservation biologist was on hand to promote the theme of proper management of wildlife.

Displays of live quail, Raccoon and the Great Horned Owl were exhibited by the Conservation Department.

An exhibit by the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross featured advice, and equipment demonstration by the Ulster County Skindivers. Water Safety is being promoted. A demonstration of artificial respiration will be given nightly by the group.

The Lions' Sight Conservation Booth was devoted entirely to "Guiding Eyes for the Blind." The organization operated a training school in Yorktown Heights, New York. The comprehensive program offers training for sightless people and guide dogs according to Peter Campbell, director of Student Information at the Guiding Eyes for the Blind. Campbell was on hand last night with his guide dog, Geb.

Geb, Campbell said, "The training school is run strictly on a homelike basis with individual attention for each student. Being a primary necessity, classes are limited in size."

Many spectators were drawn to the Rotron display which featured cooling for electronic trade. This same display was a highlight at the recent show of the Institute of Radio Engineers in the Coliseum in New York City. On display is the new Whisper Fan used in the television and radio industry. Many of the military fans used for aircraft and missile flights.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst

Keep Simple Records
To Avoid Confusion

Keeping adequate and accurate records is very important (although perhaps often overlooked) part of one's personal investment plan. Many readers who seek my advice are in the dark on such things as the cost price of some shares they own, or even the date of purchase.

A simple method of record keeping—constantly adhered to—eliminates any potentially embarrassing situation, especially with regard to Federal and state income tax matters.

Stockbrokers normally send their customers two basic statements: 1) an invoice reflecting each individual transaction; and 2) a monthly account summary. The invoice is quite similar to a charge slip issued by a retailer; it shows the type goods (stock) purchased, quantity, price, fees, taxes, date of sale and other vital factors involved. The monthly statement lists all the transactions during the period, such as charges for margin account interest or cash withdrawals and credits for dividends received or cash deposits, along with balances and stocks held in the account as of the cutoff date.

Between these two statements most investors will have all the information necessary to build up a reliable set of records. After transaction slips have been checked against the monthly summaries, I suggest that a tabulation be started on a separate sheet of paper so as to show each trade and its details in chronological order.

Investors who hold their own stock certificates should also keep a separate holdings book (a three-ring binder does nicely) for ready reference. Unusually active accounts may find the keeping of additional detail summaries to be very worthwhile.

After being posted, the transaction slips and monthly statements can then be filed away in a secure place so as to be available when the next tax declaration comes due.

If you haven't already begun a systematic way of accounting for your security transactions, I suggest that you start one right away. It takes only a little time to do and it may save you from the inaccuracies of guesswork which could easily lead to an expensive mistake.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Ford Scraps Plans For That Smaller Than Small Auto

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. will not build a small-small car in the United States this year. It has decided not enough people are interested in buying such a car to make the gamble worth the odds.

In an unprecedented announcement Tuesday night, Henry Ford II called off the Cardinal project. He indicated plans were continuing to build the car in Ford plants abroad.

This would make it available for import if the market changes. Ford personally never had confirmed the Cardinal. However, in a stock prospectus issued only last month, the company said it was developing such a car for fall introduction if market conditions looked favorable.

The Cardinal was to be of Volkswagen size and price, powered with a V-4 engine and front-wheel drive. A dozen hand-built prototypes had been assembled with full production slated for early July at Ford's Louisville, Ky., plant.

Development of the Cardinal began five years ago and was accelerated in 1959 when sales of small foreign cars reached their peak in this country of some 610,000 units. Imports have skidded sharply since then, totaling less than 375,000 in 1961.

The last-minute decision to call things off was in marked contrast to Ford's handling of the ill-fated Edsel.

The Edsel, like the Cardinal, was conceived during a period of booming sales for its type of car. By late 1957, when the Edsel was ready, the market was shrinking fast.

Ford officials later admitted they knew within the first month in the Edsel was a failure. They stuck it out, however, until November 1959, building slightly more than 100,000 altogether.

Ford lost some $250 million on the Edsel.

Kennedy Act Is involved raises in pay and benefits valued at 11.5 per cent. This was said to represent what the East Coast unions eventually settled for last summer.

Oppose Injunction
The unions—the Sailors Union of the Pacific, the Marine Firemen, and the Marine Cooks and Stewards—have insisted on a 17 per cent raise. About 5,000 members of the three unions have been involved in the walkout.

Both the West Coast shipowners and the unions have opposed using a court injunction to end the strike. The shipowners were said to fear the strike would only be resumed at the end of the 80-day legal limit such an injunction is permitted to remain in effect.

Trial Off Till Friday

Trial of the gambling charge against Gene Rios of Kingston was suspended Tuesday afternoon until 10 a. m. Friday morning by County Judge Raymond J. Mino, who is holding a regular special term of County Court today and Children's Court Thursday. The case will be resumed Friday with the prosecution's case still to be concluded.

Brush Fire Quelled

City firemen extinguished a brush fire off Devo Street, shortly before 9:30 a. m. today. A booster line from Engine 4 quelled the flames. Deputy Chief George D. Matthews was in charge.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Popular Tuna Is High Protein Food

TASTY tuna divan casserole adds protein to the diet and is an excellent substitute for meat, poultry and eggs.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Almost everyone enjoys tuna. It is a high quality protein food (an alternate for meat, poultry and eggs) and comes in several varieties.

The "white" meat is albacore. The "light," which is pinkish in color, is yellowfin, skipjack or bluefin. The pink, white cheaper in price, is just as good in flavor. The "solid" packed tuna is in large pieces. The "chunk" is excellent when mixed with other ingredients.

Tuna Divan
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon savory
1 package (8 ounces) process Cheddar cheese, grated
1/3 cup dry sherry or water

2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen broccoli spears
2 cans (6 1/2 to 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
Melt butter or margarine; stir in flour until smooth. Slowly stir in milk and savory. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese; stir until melted. Stir in sherry or water. Arrange broccoli and tuna in 2-quart casserole. Pour cheese mixture over casserole. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Some Excuse

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Students in a class at Disston Junior High School were trying to decide what a pupil watching a television lecture could tell the teacher if his television set went on the blink. The obvious solution, said Patty Wittmeyer, would be to have the television repairman sign the excuse.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

The Gazetteer and Business Directory of Ulster County for 1871-1872 loaned to me by Attorney Martin F. Comeau of 293 Wall Street is interesting reading.

For instance under "valuable recipes" they give old homemade remedies.

One reads: "Cure for a Cough — a strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine glassfull warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to manufacturers."

Another one reads: "To get rid of mosquitoes, take a few hot coals on the shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bedrooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night." The only fault I find with this, is mosquitoes come on hot nights and who wants a hot coal fire then.

I do not know how many horses are around in this section but they have a paragraph on "How to Judge a Horse" that was of course in 1871 and before. "If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much go-ahead in him to be safe with everybody. If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dishd, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe."

Years ago, they had a business directory like this 1871-1872 which listed all the inhabitants. With Port Ewen now having house numbers why not have one there. House numbers do not change like telephone numbers, and list the property owners and the tenants. It makes for interesting history later on.

I am now looking at Esopus, where when they list a person as, farmer, they give the number of acres he owns and also the post office address. Captain A. L. Anderson's post office address is Rondout. He is listed as captain of a steamboat and farmer with 150 acres. I take it, he was the owner and captain of our famous Mary Powell.

James P. Ackerman's post office was Ulster Park, and he was a teacher and farmer with 70 acres. Mrs. Julia Adams of Esopus post office was a farmer with 500 acres. J. W. Dimick and Co. Rifton Glen post office. (Jeremiah W. Dimick and Calvin T. Hazen) were manufacturers of worsted and wollen yarns (and rugs) and general merchants and farmers with 250 acres. Augustus D. Hamilton, Rondout post office was a captain of a schooner. John Hamilton, Port Ewen post office was captain of a sloop. Josiah Hasbrouck, M. D. Port Ewen post office listed as physician. Warren Kemble, M. D. Ulster Park post office physician.

There are many Houghtalings, Ellsworths, Freers, Lefevres, etc., Daniel Freer, Esopus post office farmer leases of James D. Pell 120 acres. John Freer, Rifton Glen, proprietor of Perrine's Bridge Hotel and farmer with 24 acres. Isaac C. Hotaling, Rondout post office captain of sloop.

I have never seen this book before until Captain Andrew Hickey (USN, retired) called it to my attention. I do hope the various villages like Port Ewen and towns would make up such a booklet then they could combine them into one book in time.

Loans Greater Than in Any State

N.Y. College Students Share Over 20 Million

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP) — New York college students have shared more than $20 million in federal loans in the last three years to help finance their education.

The U.S. Office of Education says the $20,099,239 allotted to 108 New York colleges, universities and other schools of higher learning was more than that received by any other state.

It resulted from the National Defense Education Act passed by Congress.

To Superior Students
Sixty-seven per cent of the loans made since the program's inception in February 1959 went to students with superior background in science, mathematics, engineering, modern foreign languages and those preparing to teach elementary and secondary school.

For each $9 in loan money allotted by the federal government, the school must contribute $1.

Loans are repayable over 10 years at 3 per cent interest, but the first payment is not due until a year after a student graduates.

New York's share of the federal loan money rose from slightly more than $3 million in the fiscal year, which ended June 30, 1959, to $7,313,671 for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30.

Average Loan $600
The average loan this year is estimated at $600.

Federal loan money received by New York schools during the entire program range from $1 million for Columbia University to $5,400 for Queensborough Community College at Bayside. The second lowest amount — $6,346 — went to Jamestown, N.Y., Community College.

List of Loans
New York schools that received more than $500,000 since the program began:

Cornell University, Ithaca, $964,196; Ithaca College, Ithaca, $581,058; Long Island University,

Brooklyn, $680,313; New York University, $588,060; Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, $526,990; Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, $765,687; St. John's University, Jamaica, $618,275; Syracuse University, $700,221; University of Buffalo, $833,505; University of Rochester, $517,849; and Yeshiva University, New York City, $576,792.

Invited for Dollar

A New York college student parlayed a $1 campaign contribution into a ticket to the $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., in New York City last Saturday.

Patricia Gallagher of Brooklyn, a political science major at St. John's University, sent Javits a $1 contribution for his re-election campaign this year. Javits said it was the first contribution. He invited her to be his guest at the dinner.

The event, incidentally, netted more than $150,000 for Javits' campaign.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, whose western New York congressional district includes some of the state's richest farm land, is known in Denver as the city slicker.

Goodell said he appeared recently on a 15-minute television program, taped in Washington, with Rep. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., for use in Denver.

An editorial in a Denver newspaper after the program was entitled "Dominick and the City Slicker," Goodell said.

His city, Jamestown, has a population of about 40,000 and is the largest community in his district.

KHS Club Starts Fund Campaign To Aid Library

Kingston High School's Key Club, the junior organization of Kiwanis, will be holding its campaign to raise funds for the Kingston City Library during National Library Week, April 9 through 14.

Hoping to at least match the $1242 figure raised last year, drive co-chairman Gary Francis and Larry Zacher said that Key Club is "trying to boost the $40,000 allotted to the library nearer to the $42,000 needed for the coming year."

The service organization began the library-boosting campaigns three years ago. It was then brought to the club's attention that the library's budget lacked adequate funds to purchase or rebind books or modernize facilities.

Past drives have resulted in such improvements as the new card-drive recording system and the children's book room.

The campaign method will be the same as in previous years. Members of Key Club, assisted by various other KHS organizations, will conduct a house-to-house canvass asking for contributions. A donation of a dollar purchases an associate library membership with all the privileges of such a membership.

Po'keepsie Youth Awarded Utility Scholarship Grant

Floyd F. Dooris, a senior honor student at Poughkeepsie High School, has been named to receive the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation's annual four-year engineering scholarship to Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Dooris of 9 Montgomery Street, Poughkeepsie, he is the 14th recipient of the utility company's scholarship. He competed for the award with 29 other students nominated by high schools from throughout the Mid-Hudson Valley. The contestants participated in a summer course covering all phases of gas and electric utility operations at Central Hudson last year.

The selection of young Dooris was based on academic standing, personality traits, leadership qualities and aptitude for an engineering career. The scholarship certificate was presented to him by Central Hudson Eastern Division Manager Frederick W. Snyder and Poughkeepsie Resident Manager William E. Van Wagenen at recent special ceremonies in the office of Poughkeepsie High School Principal Frank Bugar.

Kingston Man Is Taking Course in Meat Inspection

Frank W. Thompson of 109 Fair Street, has just completed a week of instruction at the New York State Veterinary College, Cornell University, as part of the training program for meat inspection service by the State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Four other weeks of specialized training are scheduled as the department prepares to take over inspection of all meat and meat products not now inspected under the federal program, or the New York City regulations or by local agencies with their own regulations.

Representatives of the Agriculture and Markets Division of Animal Industry, the United States Department of Agriculture and the Veterinary College participated in the week's training at Ithaca. Purpose, scope, provisions of the law and the subsequent regulations for protection of consumers of meat plus lectures on detailed procedures, equipment, responsibilities, inspection and other activities, comprised the week's study at Cornell.

All supervising veterinarians and lay inspectors of the Department of Agriculture and Markets not only will take the Cornell instruction but will also have up to a week of orientation in a federally inspected slaughtering or meat processing establishment and three weeks of on-the-job training in two or more slaughtering and meat processing establishments operating under Federal inspection.

Dr. William E. Jennings heads the Agriculture and Markets inspection service with direct responsibility to Commissioner Don J. Wickham. Dr. Jennings is taking an active part in the training program which is expected to continue until May or later.

NEW YORK (AP)—The season when the stockholder is king—or thinks he is—has started with a rush. And corporate directors look for even greater outpourings of company owners at annual meetings this spring, although fewer dramatic fights for control are on deck than last year.

Each spring there are new gimmicks for the care, enlightenment or entertainment of the stockholders that flock to these annual rites.

Machine Knows It All

One is being tried here today by Celanese Corp. of America. At the entrance to the meeting room is one of those electronic machines that knows all the answers. This time it answers 100 questions and the curious shareholder is invited to push a button and get a neatly printed reply.

The company says the answers were selected after carefully studying the questions which came up at previous meetings, supplemented by some from a list drawn up by the American Society of Corporate Secretaries.

This year more annual meetings will be held in new locales. The trend toward moving such get-togethers from region to region to reach previously neglected small owners is growing. Other gimmicks include use of closed television circuits for simultaneous meetings around the land.

Proxies More Important

Proxies have been growing in importance ever since the Securities and Exchange Commission was set up in 1934. Stock exchange rules also require brokerage houses to mail out proxy statements to stockholders when the company provides them and pays the costs. This is a big item because it is estimated that as much as half of the active customers of big brokerage houses leave their stock in the firm's name.

One big brokerage concern notes that in the 1930s companies didn't care so long as they had 51 per cent of the votes before the meeting. Now they want proxies for 80 per cent or more.

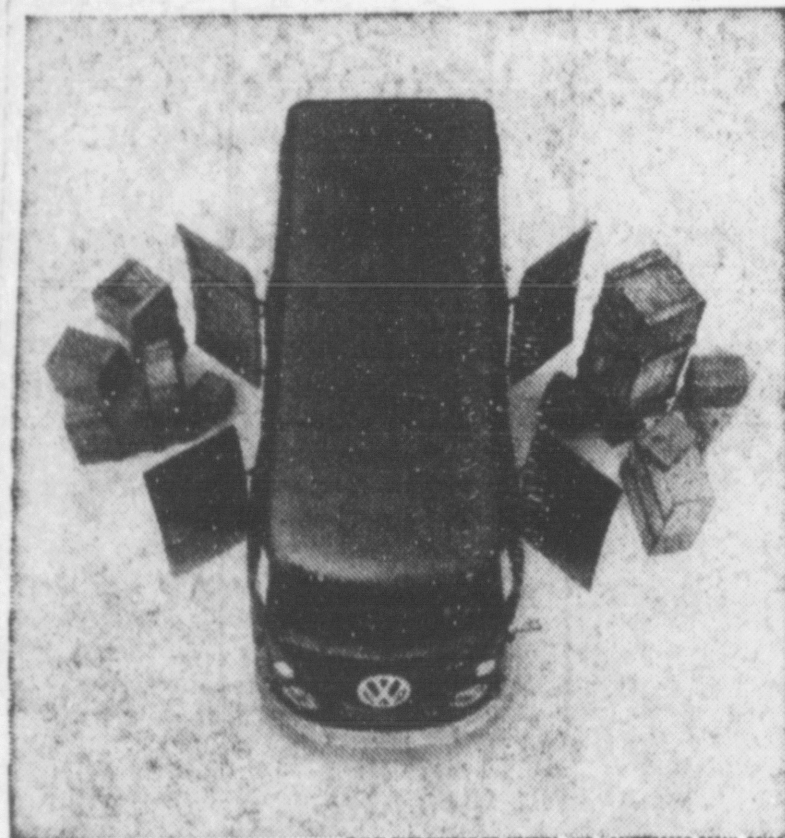

Although the majority of stock in most companies is held by small shareholders, management usually can count on getting the proxies of a large number of them. And, barring a hot fight for control, it usually has the big holdings of pension funds, banks with trustee accounts, and investment companies.

Proxies have been growing in importance ever since the Securities and Exchange Commission was

Officials Named For School Bond Vote on May 9th

The board of education this week completed the paper work required for the bond issue Wednesday, May 9, at which time the voters of the school district will vote on the question of a bond issue in the amount of $1,200,000. A second question on the ballot, and one that is separate from the bond issue, is whether to purchase approximately 10 acres of land in the vicinity of the Barclay Heights shopping area as a site for an elementary school at some time in the future if it should be needed. The cost of that purchase would be $20,000.

The board appointed the personnel to have charge of the vote May 9, subject to their acceptance of appointment as follows:

General chairman, Daniel N. Lamb; inspectors of election, Edward Flanagan, Percy Dederick, Lorenz Lorzel, Edwin Schoonmaker, William McCormick; and assistant clerks, the Mmes. Dorothy Burns, Erma Sagazie, Vera Robinson.

At its meeting this week, the board authorized payment to the architects for services in connection with the building program on which a vote was held Sept. 20, 1960. The bill was in the amount of $9,149.37. One visitor at the Board meeting this week pointed out that a somewhat similar sum will go down the "rat hole" along with the cost of options on property if the bond issue fails of approval on May 9. In response to this statement, board members said that this dilemma is one that they cannot avoid. They went on to say that as public servants they have the responsibility for submitting to public vote the proposition to build enough classrooms to provide quarters for all of the boys and girls in school. That to do this they must of necessity engage architects to make preliminary plans. And that they must secure tentative sites and that to do this they must make deposits in order to secure options. If then the vote on a bond issue fails, board members feel that they have at least done their duty. Board members pointed out that architects cannot be blamed in such an instance because their services are provided in good faith; they must undergo just as much expense up to the time of the vote on a bond issue if it fails as they do if it succeeds.

Meetings Set In District to Explain Issue

Prior to the May 9 vote on the school bond issue, volunteer workers under the guidance of district leaders will make house-to-house calls to inform legal school voters on all points concerning the proposed building plans and costs.

Whittier and North Flatbush will be under the direction of Mrs. Herbert Staining; Barclay Heights, Joseph W. Gaglianelli and Mrs. Richard Mandi; Village of Saugerties, Mrs. Charles Steele; Mt. Marion, Mrs. William R. Christiana.

In the other sections of the Saugerties Central School District meetings will be held.

The schedule for such meetings, dates, places, and time is as follows:

April 23, Malden, West Camp, Asbury — Malden School; April 24, High Woods — Church House; April 25, Quarryville — Old School House; April 30, Centerville, Veteran — Centerville Fire House; May 2, Glasco — Glasco School; May 3, Saxton — Fire House; May 7, Katsbaan, Cedar Grove, West Saugerties, Blue Mountain — Katsbaan School.

All meetings will be at 8 p. m.

Miss Grace Anderson, chairman, and Norman Nitschke, co-chairman, of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, will show slides, present information, and answer questions.

Brochures, financed through the courtesy of the P-TA, Main Street Parents' Club, Saugerties Teachers Association, and the Citizens' Advisory Committee, will be distributed.

Other Highlights Of Board Meeting

Information received by the board of education that one or more individuals have been using school grounds for golf practice and for baseball playing prompted the board to give publicity to the fact that over two years ago policy was firmly established of not permitting trespassing on school grounds for the playing of golf or the practicing of golf. One or more individuals have been reported as having recently used the high school grounds improperly for this purpose; and information was likewise received that a group of nine boys, all of school age, had played on the front lawns at the Mt. Marion School over a weekend at a time when the turf was extremely soft and had as a consequence done very material damage.

The board of education at its meeting this week established a policy that requires the retirement of employed personnel not later than the age of 70.

Superintendent Morse reported the securing of five more faculty members for the coming school year as follows: Mrs. Sylvia Elias, Woodstock, to teach a second grade in the Main Street School. Mrs. Elias is a graduate of State University College at New Paltz and has done post-graduate work at both New Paltz and Fordham University. She has had one year of teaching experience.

Walter G. Karch of Jamaica, as a sixth grade teacher at the Glasco School. Karch is a graduate of State University College at New Paltz and has earned his master's degree at the New York University School of Education. He has had five years of teaching experience.

Mrs. Clifford Schwark of Bearville, to teach a fourth grade in the Mt. Marion School. Mrs. Schwark is a graduate of St. Lawrence University and will take post-graduate work at State University College at New Paltz this summer.

Thomas M. Zulick as a teacher of high school mathematics. Zulick lives in Ontario, where he is now completing his second year of teaching mathematics in the Oneonta Junior High School. He is a graduate of Hartwick College and has done graduate work at State University College, Oneonta.

Miss Gloria Sauter as a teacher of elementary vocal music. Miss Sauter's home is in Coudersport, Pa. She will graduate in June from Houghton College.

Dr. Morse reported that there are ten vacancies on the teaching staff to be filled, as follows: Four elementary positions, one elementary vocal music position, one ungraded class position, one reading specialist, high school Spanish, high school librarian, and high school mathematics.

Lions Club Hears Hospital Talk, Plans Activities

Saugerties Lions Club met Monday with President Henry Breitenbach presiding. An interesting program was presented by Robert Schnitzer, superintendent of the Kingston City Hospital. The talk concerned requirements necessary for a functioning modern hospital.

Frank Greco, chairman of a committee formed by the Lions to investigate the possibility of the creation of a state recreational park in the Town of Saugerties, reported that he was meeting Tuesday with state representatives in order to discuss and visit the proposed camp or park site.

President Breitenbach announced that he had secured a speaker for the next meeting April 16. The speaker will be Miss May Evans a representative of the Saugerties Central Schools who would address the club on the Need for More School Buildings. It was the consensus of those present that in view of the forthcoming school bond issue the topic to be discussed was restrictive and that the entire proposed bond issue should be analyzed and not just one segment. It was also determined that those in opposition to the proposed bond issue as such should and would be given ample opportunity to present a program to the Lions Club in the near future prior to the public vote.

It was also announced that ladies night would be held on Saturday evening, May 19, at the Flamingo Restaurant.

Eight Area Drum Corps to Parade On July Fourth

The Saugerties 4th of July celebration again should be one of the outstanding events in the Hudson Valley. Eight bands have been signed for the parade to date, they are:

Red Devils, Kingston; Continental Cadets, Catskill; Saugerties Drum Corps, Saugerties; Crescendo Drum Corps, Ravena; Tivoli Drum Corps, Tivoli; Hudson American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Hudson; VFW Drum Corps, Hudson; Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps, Kingston.

Local industries have agreed to underwrite the cost of some of the bands. The Ferroxcube Corporation of America is paying the tab for the Saugerties Drum Corps. The Red Devils of Kingston are being paid for by the F. L. Russell Corporation of Saugerties.

Plans for the fireworks have been completed. The Saugerties

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

National Bank and Trust Company is financing the cost of a play, which should be the highlight of the 4th.

Planning is continuing on schedule and many new ideas are being discussed. The Saugerties Jaycees would like to once again extend an invitation to anyone who would care to volunteer an idea or event. Ideas may be directed to Jaycee 4th of July Committee, 30 Austin Avenue, Saugerties.

Easter Egg Hunt Is Slated Here April 14

The Jaycee sponsored Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday at 11 a. m. at Cantine Memorial Field, Washington Avenue. Youngsters from one to ten years of age will have the opportunity to search the field to find the more than 2700 chocolate eggs which will be hidden there. The Easter Bunny will also be on hand to greet the children participating in the hunt.

According to Richard Saunders, project chairman, the hunt will be divided into three age groups: 1 to 3; 4 to 7; 8 to 10 and awards will be presented to children in each age group. In case of rain the Easter egg hunt will be postponed until April 21.

P-TA Elects Officers At Thursday Meeting

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Saugerties Central Schools will meet Thursday 8 p. m. in the Main Street School auditorium.

The slate of officers proposed at the March meeting will be voted on by the membership. Nominated were Charles Rice for president; James Chase, vice president; Mrs. Margaret Kerin, second vice president; Mrs. John Whittenor, recording secretary; Delores Riccardi, corresponding secretary; Robert Shapiro, treasurer and Mrs. Raymond Vigi, historian.

Several members of the high school debate club will present a panel discussion on Federal Aid to Education under the direction of Mrs. Harold Behr, debate coach.

Refreshments will be served following the program.

Home Extension Unit Will Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at the regular monthly meeting of the Barclay Heights Unit of the Home Extension Service Thursday 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. William McClain, 62 Apple-tree Drive.

Plans for a covered dish supper in May and the banquet in June will also be discussed. Hostesses for the evening include the Mmes. Edward Carey, Paul Bouche and Robert Durkin.

ICC Action Expected

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Carl W. Baker, vice president and general manager of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co., says he expects the Interstate Commerce Commission to act soon on a plan for the Pennsylvania Railroad to assume control of the Lehigh Valley.

Baker told the annual stockholders meeting Tuesday that, if the ICC acts favorably, all Lehigh Valley stockholders will be offered an exchange of one share of Pennsylvania stock for 2 3-8 shares of Lehigh Valley.

Charge of Unfair Labor at Atlas Sites Dismissed

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — A charge of unfair labor practices against a subcontractor working on 12 Atlas missile sites surrounding Plattsburgh Air Force Base has been dismissed by the National Labor Relations Board, a union spokesman reports.

The International Union of Office Employees had charged that the subcontractor, the Bechtel Co., had been guilty of an unfair labor practice in discharging four office employees who were labor organizers.

The company argued that the employees were among 200 employees laid off because of a cut-back from two shifts to one. Leo Stanford, a field representative of the AFL-CIO, said Tuesday night the NLRB had dismissed the charge. However, he said the union would ask for a review of the case by the board's general counsel.

NLRB officials could not be reached for comment.

Stanford also said that office workers at the missile sites would petition the NLRB for an election to choose a bargaining agent.

The dispute over the discharge of the four labor organizers, led to picketing by office workers at three missile sites March 29.

Jamestown Bus Co. Discontinues Due to Losses

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Jamestown-Motor Bus Transportation Co. Inc., which suffered a loss of nearly 80 per cent in patronage, received permission from the Public Service Commission today to go out of business July 1.

Commissioner Ralph A. Lehr said in a statement announcing the decision that the line would go bankrupt if forced to continue operations.

The company operates between Jamestown and surrounding villages of Falconer, Lakewood and Bemus Point.

The company had told the PSC that patronage dropped from nearly 5 million riders in 1953 to 1.2 million in 1960. The line also reported it had lost money in every year since 1953, except for two years when slight profits were made.

Gets Suspended Sentence

Dennis P. Wieder, 21, of 75 North Front Street, today pleaded guilty before City Judge Joseph D. Saccoman to a charge of third degree assault and received a suspended sentence. The arrest was made last night on complaint of the youth's wife, Linda, who accused the defendant of punching her and pulling her hair at their home.

Old Timer's Civil War Notes

By C. A. WINCHELL, Shokan, N. Y.

One of the best known Civil War veterans in Ulster County for several decades was Major James H. Everett, Kingston resident who for more than half a century was prominent in affairs of Pratt Post, Grand Army of the Republic. Born Feb. 11, 1837, in Steuben County, he worked at the trade of tinsmith at Durham as a young man. At Lincoln's call for 300,000 more troops he enlisted 25 recruits and with them joined the 120th Regiment, N.Y. State Volunteers, then being organized, 1862, by George H. Sharpe, and went to the front as a lieutenant in Company K of the regiment which was assigned to the Third Corps, Army of the Potomac. At Gettysburg where the 120th lost nearly half its personnel in killed and wounded, the captain of Everett's company was killed and the slightly wounded young lieutenant was promoted to the vacancy.

War Notes: John Toothill, Co. A, 156th Infantry, died in a Baton Rouge La. hospital April 16, 1863, aged 27 years. The Kingston soldier is survived by his wife and three small children. Milton Blodgett, Co. K, 156th, died May 22, 1863, at Sumnerport, Louisiana. Charles D. Morrison of Plattickill, Co. E, 156th, died May 15, 1863, at Baton Rouge. William H. Hoffman, Co. A, 156th Infantry, died May 3, 1863, at New Orleans. August 26, 1863, Thomas Wells, 20th Infantry, son of George Wells, Kingston, one of scores of Ulster County boys wounded at Gettysburg, arrived home. Nov. 18, 1863: Report from Baton Rouge says Capt. M. D. Durham who was a private in E. Co. 156th Infantry, was taken sick during the advance on Port Hudson and removed to a hospital. Returning to duty, he was detailed to command a large contraband camp and take charge of a plantation. A strong advocate of the new Corps De Afrique or Zouaves, he recruited 600 men for that regiment and was mustered in as its senior captain.

Henry Delemater, youthful Ulster County member of G Troop, 4th New York Cavalry, appears to have been something of a humorist; he writes from camp near Alexandria, Va., under date August 3, 1863: I am now orderly bugler at headquarters, and having a fine time of it. When this cruel war is over I shall not be fit for much more than a cook's-mate. . . . I begin to experience the want of sweet companionship. . . . I have wandered over mountains and marshes without a guide or a watch (he means as a cavalry scout or picket, presumably) with mosquitoes formed in line of battle on my left and center. Yes! and Grey-back too — so help me Bob. More anon.—H. D.

Union Service Set April 18th

NEW PALTZ — A community service of worship will be held Wednesday, April 18, during Holy Week in the sanctuary of the New Palitz Methodist Church. Ministers representing the various Protestant churches in the community will take part. The local Methodist church's senior choir will sing Stainer's Crucifixion on this occasion. The offering received at this evening's service will be used in the migrant ministry program in the New Palitz-Modena-Clintondale area.

Takes Army Course

It has been reported that Army Reserve Captain, Robert Kaelin of Route 2, New Palitz, has completed a refresher course for Army Medical Service company grade officers at the Medical Field Service School at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, recently.

During the two-week course Captain Kaelin received instruction in field medical service organization, administration, personnel management, supply and logistics and preventive medicine procedures. The course emphasizes tactics, techniques and medical material requirements and includes instruction in mass casualty procedures.

The Medical Service School is one of seven major components of Brooke Medical Center, the Army's largest medical installation. The center carries out all aspects of professional and technical instruction, as well as patient care and selected projects of medical research.

Captain Kaelin is regularly assigned to the 310th Field Hospital, an Army Reserve Unit at Castle Point. He is employed as education supervisor at Woodbourne Institution.

Story Hour Resumes

Story hour at the Elting Memorial Library started sessions again last Saturday and will be held on April 14, 28 and May 5, from 1:30 to 2:30 p. m. Children from 4 to 8 may participate. The story tellers are students from the local college.

Easter Egg Hunt

An Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be held Saturday, 10 a. m. The hunt will be held on the front lawn of the central school as well as the primary playground.

The hunt will be open to boys and girls from kindergarten through 7th grade. It will be divided into two groups, one for those of ages five through eight, and the other one nine through twelve. Awards will be given in each group as well as a grand award.

In case of rain, the hunt will be postponed until the following Saturday, April 21. Chairman of the Easter egg hunt will be Hubert Hendrie, teacher of Industrial Arts at the Campus School.

Losing Spade Poses Problem

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. The rest of this week's series will be taken from "Contract Bridge Made Simple," by Daniel J. O'Neil. This book is for students, but I don't want any of my expert readers to feel that the hands are too simple.

Mr. O'Neil points out that there is a proper time and place for all plays. Usually declarer should draw trumps as soon as possible but on other occasions he will have more important things to do first.

South wins the opening spade lead in his own hand and notes that he will have to lose three aces come what may. He also will want to draw trumps in order to stop potential ruffs, but he should note that if he plays a trump at trick two the defense will get the lead and play a second spade whereupon he will have to lose a spade besides the three aces.

How can he stop this? He must plan to get rid of that spade loser and he has an easy way to do it. At trick two he should lead a diamond toward dummy. This will immediately establish three diamond tricks. He will only need one because he only has one losing spade. Then he will be able to draw trumps and claim his contract.

Former Resident Named to Post at Oceanside School

A former Kingston resident, William F. Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin L. Tucker of 35 Shufeldt Street, has been named assistant superintendent of schools in Oceanside, L. I. The appointment made by the Oceanside Board of Education will become effective July 1.

Tucker, assistant principal of Oceanside Junior High School since 1955, will be responsible for supervision of curriculum, instructional personnel and pupil services of the school district.

A graduate of Kingston High School, Tucker received his BA and MA degrees at New York State College for Teachers at Albany. He taught for two years at Bridgehampton, L. I. prior to going to Oceanside in 1949 as teacher of high school social studies and English. He was named director of adult education in 1951.

He is a member of the National Education Association, New York State Teachers Association, Secondary School Principals Association, Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development and Phi Delta Kappa, National Education Fraternity. He is a candidate for doctorate of education degree at New York University.

A veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, Tucker is a major in the Marine Corps Reserve.

At Oceanside, he is active in community and school organizations, serving in various offices. He is married to the former Dorothy Wiljico of Johnson City and the father of three children.

Gaslight Era Begins

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Although built in the gaslight era, staid old Ryman Auditorium, home of the Grand Ole Opry, is just now getting its gaslights. Installation of four sidewalk gaslights plus one in a niche in the wall built in 1891 has just been completed.

Top Middle East Writer to Speak For Jewish Fund

Eliahu Ben-Horin, veteran newspaperman, author, editor and Middle East expert, will speak at Temple Emanuel on Thursday, at 8:15 p. m., in behalf of the Kingston United Jewish Welfare Fund's campaign for funds for the resettlement and economic absorption of Jewish immigrants in Israel and to provide welfare and other aid to needy Jews in 25 other countries overseas.

Ben-Horin lived and worked as a Chutz in pre-state Israel, later becoming the editor-in-chief of the Hebrew daily, "Hayarden" and the tri-lingual economic news service, "Palnews."

In 45 Countries

He moved to London in 1937 and while in Latvia as foreign correspondent, took active part in Zionist activities and assisted in the facilitation of "illegal" Jewish immigration to Palestine.

Ben-Horin's travels have taken him to 45 countries on four continents where he met with and interviewed such important world figures as Irish Prime Minister De Valera, President Benes of Czechoslovakia, Cardinal Tisserant of Rome and many other prominent personalities.

Predicts Accurately

Ben-Horin's articles have included an amazing number of accurate predictions which bore out his foresight and intimate knowledge of the world situation. His work has appeared in Harper's, Atlantic, the Nation, the American Mercury and the New York Herald-Tribune among other national and international publications.

He is the author of several books and currently a member of the editorial board of "The Reconstructionist." Ben-Horin writes a column in that magazine, "Middle East Cockpit," in which he comments on events and developments in Israel, the Middle East and Africa.

There is no admission charge for this meeting and the committee, headed by Sam Levine, have arranged entertainment and refreshments.

Advertising helped it happen

By stimulating mass demand, advertising helped create a mass market for electric light bulbs. As demand grew, more and more were made. The more of them made, the less each one cost. Result: new and better electric light bulbs mass produced for more people at lower prices by America's remarkable and competitive economic system. Is this worthwhile? Then, so is advertising worthwhile.

Bloomington Vols Seek Increase in District Contract

A public hearing for the purpose of increasing the contract for fire protection in Bloomington Fire District will be held at Bloomington Firehouse Wednesday, April 25 at 8 p. m.

If the increase is granted, it will enable Bloomington Fire Company, Inc. to open negotiations for the purchase of a new and modern fire apparatus. The fire trucks now in the company's possession average over 25 years of age.

Fire Company President Fred Sauer in an open letter to the Town of Rosendale residents asked for approval of a contract increase.

"Bloomington Fire Department members are your next-door neighbors, who, like everyone else have to work for a living, support their families, educate their children to become good citizens, besides accepting the responsibilities involved in being a volunteer fireman. When the fire siren blows—be it day or night, in snow, rain, sleet or in zero weather, many otherwise good citizens merely shrug their shoulders or turn over in bed; it is not their home and does not affect them.

"Besides, they know that somebody will answer the call and extinguish the fire or turn out whatever the emergency. That somebody will be your local volunteer fireman, who have dedicated themselves to protect you, your loved ones and your property.

"These firemen provide such outstanding public service for residents in the fire district, voluntarily, without any thought of reward or remuneration. The question that you as a taxpayer can answer April 25 is: Do you want your volunteer firemen to have the best possible equipment to make the district a fire safe community, and to know if they are called, they will have fire apparatus they can depend on to save homes and lives?

"As a taxpayer in the district, you are asked by the volunteers to vote "Yes" for the increase which will enable them to reach a new and higher goal for security.

"Some people complain about paying a fire tax. The plain facts are that if you had to support a 'paid fire company,' the cost would be considerably higher. If you did not have the volunteers, fire insurance premiums would also be much higher. These same volunteers were also instrumental in saving you $4 on every $1,000 of fire insurance.

"It is through the ever-readiness of your volunteer firemen that you can rest assured that you will be well protected in any emergency. The fire tax you pay as a property owner is small from a view point of your financial investment in your property holdings. The increase you are asked to support is not to pay salaries to the volunteers, but to enable them to provide the fire district with a modern and up-to-date piece of fire apparatus. The costs of operating a fire company are considerable.

Shandaken Cancer Crusaders Listed for Drive In Township Area

A local task force of some 35 men and women will be part of a nationwide army of more than 2,000,000 volunteers participating in the annual April Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society, Town of Shandaken, Chairman Frank Platz said today.

Starting this week, volunteers of Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society will call on friends and neighbors with the double-barrelled objective of saving lives now as well as in the future, the chairman announced.

The township goal $925 is part of $35,000 designated as the county objective.

Every resident in the community can cooperate in this venture by heeding the advice in the life-saving educational literature which volunteers will distribute when they call for contributions, the chairman said.

Half of all cancer victims who will be inflicted this year can be cured if their cancers are detected and treated in time. Our immediate objective is to help save these lives, an estimated 260,000 men, women and children, the chairman declared.

Drive captains and canvassers of the various communities are: Mrs. Marilyn France, Pine Hill; Frank Crnkovic, Big Indian and Oliveira; Dr. John McKeon, Phoenicia; Lindsay Hoyt, Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant; Mrs. Helen Muehlich, Woodland; Claude Rowe, Shandaken and Allaben, and Earl Bennett, Chichester.

Saugerties Town Jail Passes Inspection

The Saugerties Town lockup used for confinement of prisoners by the Village of Saugerties passed state inspection recently with only a minor recommendation by the inspector.

The minor recommendation related to repair of a faucet.

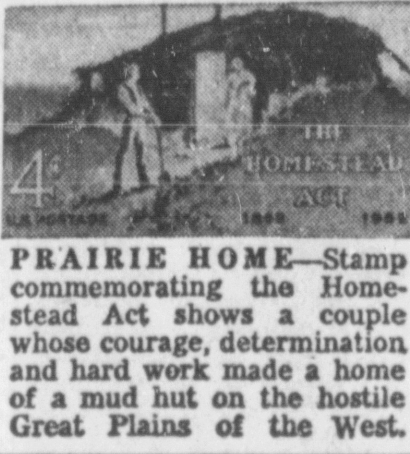

The lockup is on the ground floor of the two-story brick town building on Russell Street. The upper floor is used by the welfare office.

WAR SCENE—Postage stamp to be issued April 7 marks the Civil War battle of Shiloh.

Present equipment must be maintained and serviced. It is sometimes necessary to replace a length or two of hose or other firemanic equipment that has broken or become damaged at a fire; raincoats and boots and so on must be secured from time to time; payments must be made on equipment that could not be purchased outright; the firehouse must be maintained; there are gas, oil, electricity and telephone bills; plus countless other incidents that are needed.

Consider also that these same volunteers pay the same fire tax as you and yet pay $3 per year dues to be members and risk life and limb at fires, never knowing if they will return with smoke poisoning, crippled, maimed, or even alive. For the safety of your home and loved ones, it is your duty to help those who are now and always will be ready to help you by voting "Yes" for the increase.

PRAIRIE HOME—Stamp commemorating the Homestead Act shows a couple whose courage, determination and hard work made a home of a mud hut on the hostile Great Plains of the West.

Paltz Meeting Is Set for April 17 On Forage Crops

With the spring growing season at hand, many questions on forage crop production and management arise. A county-wide meeting to answer some of these problems has been scheduled for Tuesday, April 17, at 8 p. m. at New Paltz High School, Route 32 south, New Paltz.

Robert D. Guzowich, Associate Ulster County Agricultural Agent, reports Prof. Walter Griffith, Cornell Extension

Agronomist, will be present to answer questions. Among the matters discussed will be that of new varieties for use in the Hudson valley; the new alfalfa, Cayuga; things new in clovers, birdsfoot trefoil, Timothy or brome grass and whether there is a best time to fertilize legume crops.

Spring seeding of alfalfa without oats or other companion crops; a herbicide to control weeds in these clear seedings and many other topics will be touched upon. There will also be a discussion of methods that may increase the length of stand or make better stands of alfalfa. All members are invited and urged to bring along their neighbor since the meeting will cover some of the most important problems that will face dairy farmers in the coming six months.

Panel on Freight Rates Slated by Delta Nu Alpha

Hudson Valley Chapter 155, Delta Nu Alpha Transportation Fraternity will be host to a group of transportation experts, 7:30 p. m. April 18 in Central Hudson Auditorium, 47 Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie.

The meeting is open to the public and anyone interested in any phase of transportation is urged to attend. The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint transportation representatives of the Mid-Hudson Valley, "how freight rates are established."

William Filomena, traffic analyst for General Foods Corporation, White Plains, will be the moderator for the discussion on freight rates. A graduate of the Academy of Advanced Traffic, he is currently attending Marist College in Poughkeepsie qualifying for a degree in Liberal Arts.

Also addressing the group will be representatives of the carriers and the shippers.

Military Build-up Convulses Agriculture

Cuba Example of How Communism Arms Plan Brings On Shortages

EDITOR'S NOTE—On an island surrounded by limitless resources of the Caribbean, Cubans can't buy enough fish. Beans, poultry and many other staples always abundant before now are rationed. In this first of two articles, an Associated Press news analyst explains why communism in Cuba and throughout the Red world fails to satisfy the primary human requirement: Food.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
Here is the recipe for an indigestible Communist stew:
Mix large quantities of rigid dogma with vast centralized bureaucracy. Spice liberally with fear, adding generous portions of cautious toadyism. Garnish with red tape. Bring to a boil over slow-burning resentment.

The Pattern Since 1917

Ever since it gained power in Russia in 1917, communism in country after country has meant belt-tightening—shortages of food and consumer goods.

Why has world communism's latest acquisition, the lush, fertile island of Cuba, been forced to impose rationing in a food crisis? Fantastically, even fish—on an island surrounded by the limitless resources of the Caribbean—is in short supply for Cubans.

A List of Answers

1. Communist lust for power. Once having seized it, they require enormous investment in arms to secure and protect it.
2. A fever for rapid industrialization, with heavy industry which builds more power receiving the lion's share of the national wealth.
3. Ruthless extermination of all vestiges of the past.
4. Regimentation of the population, and with this the establishment of vast bureaucracies responsible only to the center.
5. Use of national resources for political purposes abroad.
6. Frequent passive resistance among farm populations.

All Geared to Arms

Cuba is the latest case in point. As communism tightens on the island's six million people, results show up in shortages. Quickly, the nation is drenched with Red bloc arms. All resources, effort and manpower available are geared primarily to entrenching Red power.

Thus, men and women who should be producing are marching in swollen militia ranks, waving guns serving on more than 100,000 defense committees designed as a spy system to prevent counterrevolution, or populating innumerable bureaucratic government organizations designed to keep all power in the hands of the few in the center.

Agricultural Convulsion

As it did in other states seized by communism, agriculture in Cuba went through a convulsion. The thriving cattle industry was destroyed, farms and plantations were taken over by INRA, the Communist-controlled National Institute for Agrarian Reform. Peasants were paid in scrip and required to trade only in state-run people's stores.

With the rise of the bureaucratic police state, with all the pressures and fears it brought, individual initiative was killed. The middle class was chased out of the country, and with it too many of Cuba's skilled, educated people.

Speeches of Cuban Communist leaders have a familiar, parrot-like sound, echoing the dismal recitations heard year after year in all other Red-ruled states.

The speeches concede developments like these:

Plantations Suffer

Production of sugar, always the mainstay of Cuba's economy, is dropping steadily. There is a severe shortage of cane cutters.

"Socialist Sundays" have been proclaimed, dragging people into service and forbidding workers on collectivized plantations to take that day off. Machinery is falling into disrepair at many a sugar center.

Distribution has gone haywire. Black beans, a staple of Cuban diet, spoil in warehouses. Beans are rationed, four ounces per person per week. With what beans that finally get into distribution, bureaucrats follow orders out the window. Thus in some places, said the Communist INRA chief Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, "a degree of negative perfectionism" was achieved, when the four ounces was broken up into two ounces of lentils and two ounces of black beans per person.

No Meat for Weeks

Distribution of meat is chaotic. There are districts which go without meat for weeks. The same applies to poultry, a favorite item of the Cuban diet.

Communist Hungary delivered refrigerated vans to Havana on an urgent basis. Hungarian reported the chief of the "consolidated meat industry" didn't want them, so the "chief of the chicken section" grabbed all of them. Then, suddenly, all bureaucrats wanted the vans. None was available. Food spoiled.

The Cuban experience is by no means unique. It is a repetition of what has happened at one time or another in every Communist-ruled nation. Even today, more than half a century after communism first entrenched itself in Russia, the picture of abundance remains just a hazy dream.

Leadership Award Program for 4-H Members Planned

CHICAGO—The National 4-H Leadership award program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, this year will involve more than 165,000 boys and girls between 10 and 21, and several thousand volunteer adult leaders, estimates the National 4-H Service Committee.

Interest in the training and character development inherent in the program has been stepped up recently due to emphasis placed on leader training by the extension service, said a committee spokesman. Adults have attended extension sponsored training sessions, and junior 4-H leaders have participated in leadership camps and conferences.

Purpose of the meetings was to broaden the depth and scope of leadership at all levels. Teen-agers enrolled in the leadership program have testified to its far-reaching effect.

"The 4-H has helped to give me poise and confidence, and has opened up many opportunities in school, community and business," says Leonard Wertz, 21, of McClave, Colo. who has just completed a long and successful 4-H career.

"It has given me a broader knowledge of citizenship in action," he adds. Wertz, a student at Colorado State University, is a typical "older" 4-H member. He has been active in the Collegiate 4-H Club while maintaining contact with his club back home. He also has a hand in a floral and gift business. He has won numerous 4-H honors, his most recent being named one of 12 national leadership award winners for 1961.

Next fall 12 more outstanding 4-H youths will be selected for this high honor, and will receive $100 college scholarships from the Seward-Jacobson Foundation. From this national group, a boy and girl will be chosen for the President's award; a beautiful silver serving tray.

Other leadership recognition awards to be provided by the foundation in cooperation with the National 4-H Service Committee are attractive gold-filled medals for county winners, certificates of honor for high ranking boy and girl in the state, and a National 4-H Club Congress trip for one. All winners are selected by the extension service.

State Tax Declarations Are Due Next Monday

ALBANY — State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy today reminded New York State taxpayers who are required to make Declarations of Estimated Tax that the first quarterly payment of 1962 Declarations is due April 16.

There are approximately 500,000 New York State taxpayers who are required to meet their state tax obligations by filing Declarations of Estimated Tax and making quarterly payments on those declarations. For the most part, they are professional people, self-employed persons and others whose taxes are not withheld from wages or salaries. Like other state income taxpayers, those who file Declarations of Estimated Tax should file their reports and make their payments at the District State Tax Office serving the area where they live.

Turkey Growers' Quotas Rejected By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Agriculture Committee has rejected Kennedy Administration proposals to set quotas for dairy farmers and turkey growers.

The committee's action Tuesday confirmed a previous subcommittee vote to eliminate the marketing quotas section of the proposed omnibus farm bill.

However, the entire farm bill is subject to amendment in committee when it is put together for a final vote.

The committee eliminated sections of the bill that would have established: Producer quotas and allotments affecting dairy farmers in federal milk-marketing areas.

Producer quotas and allotments on turkeys. Compulsory contributions by producers to funds to finance promotion of their products.

The committee action on turkey quotas does not directly affect a referendum scheduled for June 18-22 on turkey-production controls.

Although the action on quotas represented a defeat for the administration, the committee earlier had approved key provisions close to administration requests on wheat and feed grains.

Erie Lighthouse Aglow First Time Since 1859

BARCELONA, N.Y. (AP)—The Barcelona lighthouse gaslight was aglow today after over a century of darkness.

The Iroquois Gas Co. rekindled the lighthouse, located in this Chautauque County community on the shores of Lake Erie Tuesday as a symbol of this Western New York area's part in the early use of natural gas. Wooden pipes from the nation's first gas wells in nearby Fredonia carried the gas to 13 burners arranged in a two-tier semicircle when the bright, unwavering beam was first ignited in 1859.

The light went out in 1859 following the decline in the use of the harbor.

Jaycees to Hold Easter Egg Hunt Saturday, 21st

The annual Jaycee Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Saturday, April 21, at Forsyth Park.

Starting time is 11 a. m. This year 2,000 wrapped chocolate eggs will be hidden in a fenced area of the park and children in three age groups will be given the opportunity to find and collect these eggs.

Awards will be given to the child in each age group who collects the largest number of eggs. The winner in the 7-10 age group will receive the Hudson valley's largest chocolate egg, donated by Neko's Pharmacy. In addition, Bantam US toys of Kingston has donated plush toys for additional awards.

Andrew Murphy III has again pledged the assistance of the Kingston Recreation Department in constructing the fenced area for the hunt.

Hamlet Must Go For Mine Section

TAHAWUS, N.Y. (AP) — The story of this Northern New York hamlet for the last 20 years has been: How goes the titanium mine, so goes Tahawus.

The problem facing the mining company, the National Lead Co., and the hamlet's 700 residents today was:

Where goes Tahawus? The community has to be moved to make way for a new section of the open-pit titanium mine. Involved in the relocation are 180 company-owned frame homes, two churches, two stores, a garage and an elementary school that has 100 pupils in grades one to three.

Tahawus, home of the world's largest titanium mine, was established by National Lead in 1942, when the company began mining operations here. About 40 per cent of the 350 employees at the mine lives in the Essex County hamlet.

Other residents are employed by smaller companies affiliated with mining operations.

Because the company's expansion plans, "everyone will have to move," a spokesman said. He said National Lead may build a completely new community for those displaced, or it may move the present buildings to a new location.

The move will occur sometime in the next five years, he said.

Titanium, mined as ilmenite ore, is used to make paints and a score of other products. Titanium dioxide is used as a pigment in white paint.

Before the hamlet was founded, the site was a private club. The hamlet was named for the club.

W. Hurley Squad Awards Contract For Rescue Unit

A contract in the amount of $7,040 to provide a new rescue unit for West Hurley Emergency Rescue Squad was awarded to Albany Avenue Garage, Kingston at the Monday night meeting of West Hurley Board of Fire Commissioners and members of the rescue squad.

Two bids were received for the unit. The bid from Albany Avenue Garage was low bid at $6,261 for the basic unit and $7,040 for a completely equipped unit with deluxe equipment.

It was decided to award the contract for an International Rescue Unit with all equipment, to be delivered within two months, at a cost of $7,040.

The unit is known as an International Travelall Station Wagon deluxe ambulance conversion and comes fully equipped with two invalid cots, oxygen, resuscitator, splints, fracture board, fire extinguishers and all necessary first aid and rescue equipment. The unit will be equipped with two-way radio. The chassis is powered with an eight-cylinder motor and automatic transmission.

Leland Whiting, chairman of the Board of Fire Commissioners, and Daniel Fochi, assistant chief of West Hurley Fire Company and chairman of the committee which solicited contributions for purchase of the new rescue unit, expressed their thanks to the residents of the area on behalf of the board of fire commissioners and the rescue squad for the generous financial support.

Contributions toward the new rescue unit exceeded the hopes of the committee and totaled $4,239.30, which together with the $2,801.35 in the capital reserve fund, will cover the cost of the new unit without the issuance of bonds.

Chairman Fochi was loud in praise for the manner in which the people of the area supported the move and also for the members of the committee and workers who solicited for the committee.

Prospective Bride Of Maurice Lambert

HELEN J. ZEILMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Zeilman of 23 Spaulding Lane, Saugerties, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Jeanette, to Maurice N. Lambert, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ovilla Lambert of Woonsocket, R. I.

Miss Zeilman was graduated from Saugerties High School and St. Luke School of Nursing, New York City. She is now on the staff of St. Luke Hospital. Her fiancé, an alumnus of the University of Rhode Island, is an insurance representative for Prudential Insurance Company of America in New York City. A fall wedding is planned.

New Women's Club To Benefit Greek Orthodox Church

At a meeting of the newly organized Hellenic Women Club held recently in the parish hall of the Holy Cross Church, Kingston, Mrs. Peter Chafouleas was elected president.

The purpose of the club is to offer assistance and support to the Greek Orthodox Church, its schools, and to cultivate ideals and traditions of Americanism and Hellenism.

Plans are now being made for the construction of a Greek Orthodox Church in this city by the Greek Orthodox Community of Kingston.

Also elected to office were Miss Anastasia Kitsos, vice president; Mrs. Emanuel Fotiadis, secretary; Mrs. Peter Kouvarides, treasurer.

Committee appointments were made as follows: Mrs. James Geanuleas, publicity; Mrs. Sam Matthews, chairman; Mrs. George Koulos, hospitality; Mrs. George Kakoulis, refreshments; Mrs. Chris Larios, program; Mrs. Leo Larios and Miss Artemis Goumas, membership.

The next meeting of the group is scheduled for Thursday, April 12, 8 p. m. in the Holy Cross parish hall.

Stingel - Smith Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stingel of 17 Josephine Avenue have announced the marriage of their daughter, Nancy, to Gerald Smith.

The ceremony took place on April 1 at Trinity Lutheran Church with the Rev. John Frensen officiating.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Crispell of Port Ewen, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception for the immediate family was given at the home of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at 17 Josephine Avenue.

St. Joseph's

The regular monthly meeting of St. Joseph's Rosary Society will be held on Monday, April 16 at 8 p. m. in the school basement. After the business meeting, the Rev. John Meade, chaplain of the Wallkill State Prison will give an interesting talk. All women of the parish are invited to attend. Members are asked to make their donations for the linen basket before the May meeting.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY LUNCHEON IS GIVEN — Mrs. Eugene F. Wolff, president of the Women's Auxiliary to the New York State Medical Society, was guest of honor at the Ulster County Auxiliary annual luncheon and installation of officers held at Broglio's Restaurant on Tuesday. Among those attending were, standing (l-r) Dr. Harry McNamara; Mrs. Abraham Feldman, treasurer; Mrs. Lewis Neponet, recording secretary; Mrs. Wolff, guest of honor; Dr. Henry Eichelmann Jr.; seated (l-r) Mrs. Harry F. Pohlmann, parliamentarian; Mrs.

Thomas Ingarra, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry Eichelmann, president; Mrs. Harry McNamara, president-elect; and Mrs. Frederic W. Holcomb Sr., director of the State Women's Auxiliary. Miss Cecile Roberts, Benedictine Student nurse, received the Auxiliary nursing scholarship for 1961. The group also plans a bus trip to New York on May 15. Co-chairmen are the Mmes. Herbert Zacheo and George Elnterz. Proceeds will be for Project Hope. (Freeman photo)

GIRL NEXT TO HER IS CHEATING

Q—I sit next to a girl in school who copies from me whenever we have a test. I know she does this, because I caught her doing so. This bothers me very much and I'm afraid if we come up with the same answers on our tests, the teacher might think I am the one who is copying. Can you offer a solution to this problem, short of going to the teacher and telling her, which I don't want to do? To make matters worse, I am quite friendly with this girl and I do like her.

A—It will be best to tell her frankly of your fear that the teacher will become suspicious if you both come up with the same answers on your tests. If you do not wish to do this, try to keep your paper out of her line of sight.

Answering A Blanket Invitation

Q—My employer's daughter is going to be married soon and an invitation to the wedding and reception has been posted on the bulletin board for all the employees. We would like to know if it is necessary for each and every one of us to formally acknowledge this invitation. I do not intend to go to the wedding or reception, but I feel it is only courteous to answer the invitation. There are others who feel that it is not necessary to acknowledge a "blanket" invitation. Your opinion on this matter will be appreciated.

A—It will not be necessary to answer the blanket invitation to the wedding, unless an answer is requested on the posted invitation.

Addressing Their Customers Correctly

Q—Several months ago my husband and I opened a luncheonette. I have been referring to our customers as "Sir" and "Ma'am." For example: "What will you have 'Sir' (or 'Ma'am')." My husband tells me this is wrong. I have always been taught to say "Sir" and "Ma'am" to anyone older than myself. Will you please tell me if I am wrong, and if so, how should I refer to customers?

A—To address your customers as "Sir" and "Madam" (not "Ma'am") is polite and entirely correct.

Choose Turkey for Easter

You've been hearing for months about the low prices on turkey due to the abundant supply. The price is still low, so turkey can be considered an especially attractive choice for Easter. Supermarkets are heavily supplied with top quality, meaty birds of many different sizes to meet your needs for the holiday.

Frozen storage stocks are so high that many birds that usual will be marketed, resulting in unseasonably low prices for shoppers. This large supply of frozen turkeys is typical.

Americans are eating more turkey today than ever before. Two major reasons account for our increased use of turkey—heavy supplies resulting in lowered prices and more even year around distribution.

There is a turkey size to meet your needs—from 3 to 30 pounds, ready-to-cook. Small, fryer-roasters weigh from 3 to 8 pounds. These are young birds that are marketed when only partly grown at 3 or 4 months of age; you can broil, fry or roast them.

Middle size birds are becoming increasingly popular. These are white breed birds that range from 5 to 15 pounds in weight, ready-to-cook; large white hens weigh 8 to 11 pounds; toms range from 9 to 15 pounds.

Broad Breasted Bronze are the heaviest turkeys, with some of the toms weighing up to 30 pounds. They make up the largest part of our turkey supply. Hens average 10 to 15 pounds, ready-to-cook; toms, 16 to 24 pounds.

Large birds usually cost less per pound than the smaller sizes. If the large bird is too big for your needs, you may be able to buy a half or quarter turkey roast and still take advantage of economy prices. Or have the large frozen bird sawed in half at the supermarket, and freeze half for later use.

Consider these qualities when you select frozen turkey:

Storage. Good storage is important to turkey quality. Choose frozen turkeys that have been stored in a frozen food chest where the temperature is 0 degrees F. or lower. Look for a thermometer in the frozen food chest to check the temperature. You may suspect poor storage by signs of a dark reddened skin on the turkey.

Wrapping. Select frozen turkeys with the wrapper not damaged or torn. Torn wrappings expose the bird to air which de-

Ahavath Israel Show Is Given Here; Cast Receives Lauds

A very successful cabaret night was sponsored by Sisterhood Ahavath Israel, Saturday, March 31. Employing the theme "Cafe de Paris," the evening featured an original show with a French theme and a continental supper. Dance music was provided by John Bott and his orchestra.

Starring in the revue were: Larry Jacobs, Paul Johnson, Herman Rafalowsky, Jerome Simon and George Small; also the Mmes. Joseph Colon, Mel Kelm, Carl Lipton, and Martin Singer. Mrs. Joseph Colon directed the entertainment and Mrs. Arthur Moak was choreographer.

Those aiding Mrs. Al Horowitz in the preparation of the dinner were the Mmes: Bernard Cohen, Max Eckdich, Harry Fettel, Sylvia Jacobs, Martin Netburn, Sidney Rafalowsky, David Seigal, George Small, Isidore Werbalowsky, Irving Wilpan. Decorations were executed by Dr. Bernard Cohen, Sanford Gossett, and Mel Kelm. Mrs. Bernard Cohen and Mrs. Sanford Gossett were in charge of reservations.

St. Remy Ladies' Auxiliary

The St. Remy Ladies' Auxiliary will sponsor a Dutch clothing demonstration on April 16 at 8 p. m. in the St. Remy fire hall. Adults and children are invited to attend.

Hadassah Programs Are Announced Here

An auction will highlight a meeting of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Monday, April 16, at Temple Emanuel. Mrs. Arthur London will preside.

Mrs. Seymour Werbalowsky and Mrs. Stanley London are in charge of the auction, with curios, antiques and knickknacks going to the highest bidders. Those who have items to donate should contact the chairmen.

The auction will benefit Hadassah Supplies to equip the linen closets of the new Hadassah-Hebrew University Hospital at Kiryat Hadassah, outside Jerusalem.

During the business session, a new slate of officers for next year will be proposed. Mrs. Walter Suskind is chairman of the nominating committee. Plans will also be outlined for spring projects benefiting Hadassah Medical Organization, culminating in the annual donor dinner in June.

Donor credit may be earned by working on all projects including Eye Bank Day, with Mrs. Herbert Gertner in charge; advertising page, headed by Mrs. Sidney Treinkman; and individual projects, including baking for meetings, selling items and holding card parties and luncheons.

Already concluded are the New and Nearly New Shop held last week and a special H.M.O. benefit. Mrs. Arthur Motzkin, Mrs. Alvin Motzkin and Mrs. Stanley Kaplan are in charge of donor, with Mrs. George Starkman chairman of credits.

It is estimated that about 93 per cent of all homes in New York City have television sets.

EASTER LILIES BLOOMING—Hundreds of lilies now in bloom at the Burgevin Greenhouse will help usher in the Easter season this month. Examining one of the plants is Burton (Bud) Davis, at right. With him is Arthur Melchior.

Each year on Palm Sunday, area residents are given an opportunity to visit the greenhouse and view the plants. The greenhouse will be open to the public on that day from 1-5 p. m. (Freeman photo)

Anderson-Wood Nuptials Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Helen E. Anderson of 58 St. James Street to William S. Wood of 136 Foxhall Avenue, this city. The ceremony was performed Saturday, April 7 at the Reformed Church of the Comforter, Wynkoop Place, Kingston, by the Rev. Patrick R. Vostello, followed by a reception at the Nieu Dorp, Hurley.

The bride, daughter of J. Thomas Anderson of Saugerties, is employed by the Kingston Savings Bank. Mr. Wood is a retired postal supervisor.

Y-Wives Hold Meeting Here

Members of the Y-Wives Club heard a talk on Mexico given by Mrs. Arthur Oudemool at a recent meeting. She spoke about the life and culture of the country and showed color slides.

Projects for the April 12 and 26 meetings will be spring hats as announced by Mrs. Donald Hulsair, president. Instructor will be Mrs. Arthur Lewis.

The annual meeting and luncheon of the YWCA will be held on Saturday, May 5 at the Fair Street Reformed Church at 12:30 p. m. Business meeting will start at 1:30 p. m. All members are invited to attend.

Hostesses for the evening were the Mmes. John Weishaupt and John Drewes.

Atharhacton Lodge

Atharhacton Rebekah Lodge 357 will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in Odd Fellows Hall, 4 Brewster Street. All members are asked to bring their friends. A covered dish supper will be served.

St. John's Rosary

The regular meeting of the Altar-Rosary Society of St. John's parish, West Hurley, Woodstock and West Shokan, will be held tonight at 8 in the Woodstock rectory.

Rochester Town GOP Picks Slate

The annual election of officers of the Town of Rochester Republican Club was held recently, at which time Mrs. Meredith Morgan was elected president.

Other officers elected were Peter Gates, vice-president; Mrs. Abram Smith, secretary; Mrs. LeRoy Kelder, treasurer. Mrs. Robert Lewis was elected publicity chairman.

The well attended meeting was held at the Accord Fire Hall.

It was announced that the annual report of the supervisor would be printed and made available to the public.

A cake sale was discussed and will be held Saturday, May 26, at Edward C. Carle's grocery store at Accord.

At the next regular meeting, Tuesday, May 1, a special film "Operation Abolition," will be shown. This is an interesting film and all members are urged to reserve that date and attend.

Congressman Is Named Speaker For Esopus Fete

SAMUEL STRATTON

The final plans for the dinner Saturday night in the Town of Esopus at which Congressman Samuel S. Stratton will be the speaker, were announced today by Arthur Withall, dinner chairman. The dinner will be held at Broglio's Restaurant, West Park, and is scheduled to start at 7 p. m.

Stratton has declared his intentions of seeking the Democratic nomination for the governorship of New York state. So far, he has the support of 12 of the state's 62 counties. Stratton is a former mayor of Schenectady and is now serving his second term as a United States representative from the 32nd Congressional District. He has great appeal as a vote getter and has consistently led his party at the polls. In the 1960 election, he outdrew President Kennedy in his district by over 20,000 votes.

Stratton is a graduate of the University of Rochester and also holds graduate degrees from Haverford College and Harvard University. Before entering politics, he was on the faculties of RPI and Union College. Saturday, he plans to stop off at Esopus to speak on his way from his office in Washington to his home at Schenectady.

Saturday's dinner is being sponsored by the Town of Esopus Democratic Club. The dinner is open to the public and tickets may be obtained from members of the committee. The committee, in addition to Withall, is composed of Mrs. Ethel Reilly, Miss Marjory Costello, David Reilly, George Freer, Charles Perry, Zale Liese, Walter Bailey, and Esopus Town Supervisor Roger Mabie.

Ulster Art Group Plans Exhibit Here

The officers and members of the Ulster Art Association have invited the public to attend the opening of their spring art exhibit on Saturday, April 28 and Sunday, April 29 at the Maple Hill School in Rosendale.

The exhibit will open from 1-5 p. m.

Hostesses for the reception and assisting at the tea and coffee table will be the Mmes. Doris Ashton, M. Goerke and E. Houghtaling.

The event will mark the 15th anniversary of the Ulster Art Association.

Rummage Sale

Sawkill Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Sawkill Fire Company will sponsor a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday of this week, April 13 and 14 at 70 Broadway. The sale will be open on Friday from 9:30 a. m. until 5 p. m., and on Saturday it will open at 9:30 and continue into early afternoon. The Community residents and other donors have been very generous with articles for sale, and a large assortment of clothing, hats, shoes, purses, household accessories, curtains, drapes, bedspreads, jewelry, knick-knacks, and many other miscellaneous items will be sold at extremely reasonable prices. The public is most cordially invited to attend the sale and benefit by the bargains there.

Three Bard Students Win Scholarships For Newspaper Study

Three Bard College students, Marc Erdich of Brentwood, L. I., Richard Cohen of Clifton, N. J., and Allen Kronzek of Pittsburgh, Pa., have each been awarded a $500 scholarship from the Newspaper Fund, Inc. The scholarship money will be given to them upon successful completion of a summer's work for a newspaper. The Fund has made arrangements for them to secure summer jobs with a wide variety of newspapers.

These grants mark the third consecutive year in which Bardians have received Newspaper Fund scholarships. Winners in previous years were Jack Blum and Wallace Loza.

The executive director of the Fund is Paul Swenson; his assistant is Edward Traves. The Fund offices are located in the building of the Wall Street Journal at 44 Broad Street, New York City.

The scholarship grants are competitive and to obtain the scholarship a student must apply sometime during the fall or winter months. The Newspaper Fund then reviews the applications and decides which applicants should be awarded the scholarships. They generally receive 800 to 1,000 applications and award approximately 130 scholarships.

The primary interest of the Fund is attracting "bright young men" into the field of Journalism. Awards are made as a rule to students in colleges which do not have departments of journalism or schools of journalism. They are also particularly interested in students whose career plans have not been definitely set and who might be somehow attracted to the field of journalism.

Former Ulster Residents Meet In Denmark

Miss Anita Williams, a former resident of Rosendale, who is touring the Scandinavian countries during her spring vacation from Trinity College in Dublin, Ireland, made Copenhagen, Denmark her first stop in order to hear opera singer Richard Mundt of Woodstock. Mundt, soloist with the Copenhagen Symphony Orchestra, scored a triumph in Copenhagen's largest concert hall and was acclaimed by leading music critics as "the most promising young voice to be heard in Denmark today."

Miss Williams visited Oslo and Bergen, Norway; Scotland, and London, England before returning to Ireland and plans to visit Finland, Germany and France during the summer months.

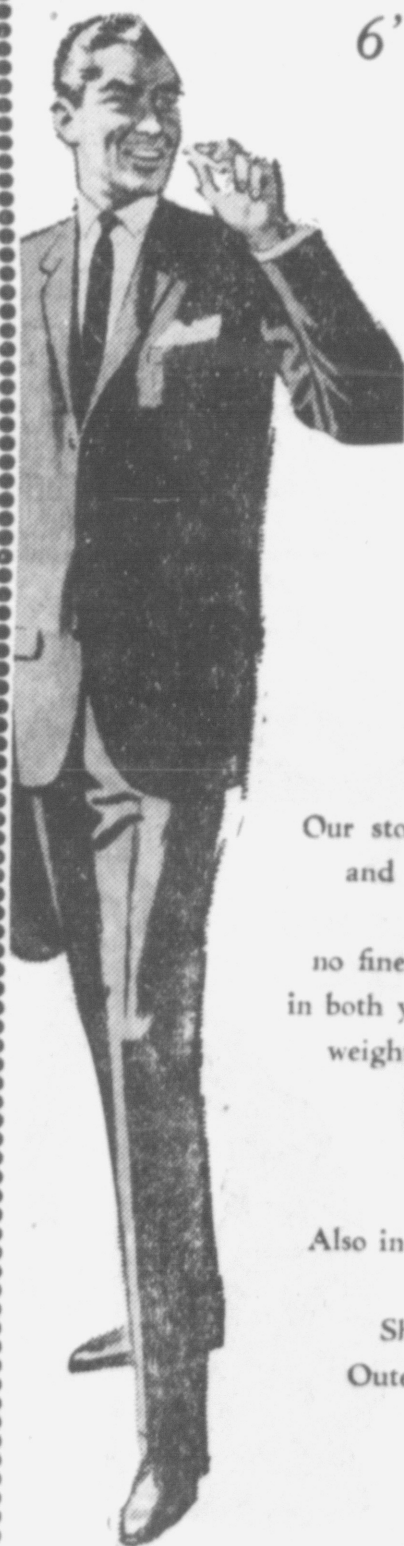

Mr. Mundt returns to Vienna for the music festivals there and at present is preparing his roles for the Saarbrücken Opera House in Germany where he begins a two year engagement in August. He is also preparing a Lieder program which will be broadcast from the Danish Radio station next month.

Clay's Job Nears End on Berlin, Will Serve JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay will shortly wind up his duties as President Kennedy's special representative in Berlin but will continue to serve as a special consultant to the President on Berlin policy, informants reported today.

Clay left Berlin today for Washington. He said he would report to the President Thursday and expected to return to Berlin Sunday.

"Any further announcements will be made from Washington after I have reported to the President," Clay's statement said.

The informants in Washington said Clay will go back to Berlin next weekend for a short time but that it is definite his assignment as Kennedy's special representative in the crisis-ridden city is coming to an end.

Clay, 65, undertook the job on a temporary basis last summer in the period of intense crisis following Communist construction of the wall sealing off East Berlin. Termination of the assignment apparently is related to the drop in tension which has followed the talks in Geneva last month between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Clay is expected to go back to work as chairman of the board of Continental Can Co. as soon as he can wrap up his affairs in Berlin.

Bill Cook was the New York Rangers' top goal-getter each year from 1928 to 1934.

DAR Speaker Cites Common Market, World Government, Disarmament Is Dangerous

In a speech before the Wiltwyck Chapter of the DAR in Kingston on April 5, Mrs. Ray Laverne Erb, National Chairman of the DAR National Defense Committee, warned the membership of dangers lurking in a disarmament program, world government and the Common Market.

Volting great concern about conditions in the world today, Mrs. Erb also assailed "... the gentle Fabians, suave liberals, dupes and sentimentalists" as "quicksands of the mind into which we sink."

The speech was delivered at the annual spring luncheon given by the DAR at the Governor Clinton Hotel on April 5. Mrs. Erb, who is editor of "Report to America," magazine of the American Coalition of Patriotic Societies, was introduced by Mrs. J. Baker Burroughs, Regent of Wiltwyck Chapter, and Mrs. Walker McClure, program chairman.

Also attending were: Miss Amy Walker, Director of the III District of New York State, and National Vice Chairman of the Credentials Committee; Mrs. Lindsay Chalmers, State Chairman of DAR Girl Homemakers, and from Wiltwyck Chapter, Mrs. R. R. Empringham, first vice regent; Mrs. Walter McClure, second vice regent; Mrs. Walter T. Tremper, recording secretary; Miss Hazel Bloom, chaplain; Mrs. Herbert C. Foster, treasurer, and Mrs. Adam H. Porter, historian.

Also introduced were representatives of the following Chapters in the Third District of New York State: Chancellor Livings-ton, Rhinebeck; Gansevoort, Albany; Minisink, Goshen; Mohawk, Albany; On-ti-ora, Catskill; Meeting House Hill, East Durham; Quassaick, Newburgh; and the Jane McCrea Chapter, Glens Falls.

Miss Hazel Bloom, Chaplain, gave the invocation; Mrs. Arthur C. Hazenbush, Flag of the United States chairman, led in the Pledge of Allegiance; and Miss Helen M. Turner played the National Anthem.

Miss Walker spoke briefly on the outstanding activities of Wiltwyck Chapter, praising the Chapter for owning and maintaining such a fine old colonial Chapter House.

Mrs. Chalmers gave a brief talk on her interesting work with the young girls of New York State, "who are accomplishing so much in Girl Homemakers work."

Mrs. Erb first noted that her audience, as members of the D.A.R., were descendants of men and women who sacrificed their lives and fortunes to establish a way of life under which American citizens have enjoyed the greatest life and successes in the history of the world. "There are many forces now attempting to destroy this American way of life," she said. "Everyone must stand firm for his personal convictions today as never before. Being neutral never won anything. Every American who is truly concerned about the future of his country—which means his future and that of his children—should carefully study the Constitution of the United States, and be firm in defending it and not allow the enactment of Federal and State laws that are contrary to those laid down in the Constitution."

The speaker also spoke about the disarmament program, world government, and the Common Market. She voiced great concern as to the disastrous results on the welfare of the United States, "if we forsake our present form of government, have no military protection, and have a common market. We are all aware that we are already expending our country's money far beyond economic safety, and that there are forces working toward the end that our country will finally lose all its prestige, particularly in the financial field. When and if that happens, we will have little to say about our own country's government and its protection. Every individual must be aggressive and always uphold the Constitutional rights of his country. Never forget Khrushchev's statement about the United States—"We will bury you."

Mrs. Erb also said there are subtle ways the communists have of infiltrating their beliefs in our daily lives. "Even adults who are often fall victims to these intrigues, and accept people and adhere to their proposed plans without realizing they are being led in the wrong direction," she said. "We must ever be alert, especially as to what our youth are being subjected to in the way of education, friends, movies, reading matter, and entertainment. Unless the American people rise from their apathy they will wake up to find we are communists."

The rest of Mrs. Erb's speech follows:

"What are the quicksands of the mind? How do they threaten to engulf the Republic that we love, and how may we and the Republic return to the granite on which alone we stand and endure. We must first realize the true threat and peril to our way of life, to our Constitutional Republic, to the United States of America. Too many people see our peril only in the material threat and the military danger. I agree, our defenses must be strong; our power of retaliatory attack must be strong."

"Having affirmed the need of military preparedness, I hasten to say, this is not our greatest danger. Any military man will tell you that weapons are important—but that morale is even more important. Faith, hope, and love—the consecration to a cause—the morale of high motivation—the clear mind, the fervent spirit, the resolute spirit, these are our greatest assets. And at what do our enemies aim? They seek to subvert our faith, our hope, and our love; our patriotism; our love of America, our belief in the Constitutional Republic. Their chief attack is by the infiltration of our culture and the subversion of our souls. They would capture our minds and hypnotize our wills by brainwashing."

"One teacher, infecting his students with his own cynical criticism of free enterprise, his own sentimental affection for collectivism, can do more to destroy us than the blitzkrieg of an army division. One persuasive textbook, pouring scorn over our patriotism, ridiculing private initiative and ballooning government subsidies and control, dispensing sugar for collectivism and acid for free enterprise, may confuse the minds of youth and paralyze the wills of youth."

"Thus they render us impotent to man the bulwarks of freedom. Such books confuse us intellectually and they soften us spiritually; they hypnotize our wills, they subvert our morale, they soften us for the attack."

"We must realize that our greatest danger today is not outward military attack, but inward cultural subversion. The true war of today is the cold war. The moral peril is brainwashing. Our real war today is not a battle of bullets, but of brains; not of missiles but of minds; not of spirit; not of weapons, but of wills. The real battlefield today is not some remote no-man's land half way around the world, where the tanks roll, the guns roar and the bombs fall, but in the every-man's land of our magazines, our television, our pulpits, our plays, and our books and pictures and music and beyond all else in our classrooms, and our text-books."

"If the collectivists capture the minds of youth, why should the Communists bother to roll the tanks or to drop the bombs. They are already here."

"If our young people are conditioned to believe that private initiative should be nothing and government coercion should do

Lindy's Papers Bring $3,500; $425 for Glenn's

NEW YORK (AP)—Papers of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh have brought higher auction prices than letters of Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

The bidding was not on a personality preference basis, however.

Lindbergh's papers dealt with his historic solo flight to Paris in 1927.

Glenn's letters were groundling stuff. Although some were on Project Mercury stationery, they did not deal with his achievements as America's first astronaut to orbit the earth. They were about his foreign-made car.

The papers of the heroes of the aviation age and the space age were among items auctioned Tuesday at the Parke-Bernet Galleries.

John F. Fleming, a New York City dealer in rare books, bought the Lindbergh papers for $3,500 and the Glenn letters for $425.

A private collector, who a Parke-Bernet spokesman said must remain anonymous, put the Glenn papers up for auction.

Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Gen. Manton Sprague Eddy, 69, one of the nation's top military leaders in World War II, died Tuesday. Eddy retired in 1933 after 36 years of active service with the U.S. Army. Eddy, who was born in Chicago, had been hospitalized since March 29 and had suffered a heart attack.

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Harold Albert Lamb, 69, of Beverly Hills, Calif., novelist and historian who chronicled the lives of such figures as Alexander the Great and Genghis Khan, died Monday after a short illness. Lamb was born in Alpine, N.J.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Dr. Jesse J. Galloway, 79, retired Indiana University professor and international expert in geology, died Tuesday of a heart attack. He was past president of the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists.

NEW YORK (AP)—Clinton R. Robinson, 39, president of the Carborundum Co., which operates 58 plants and distributing facilities in 16 countries, died Tuesday. Robinson, who suffered from a heart condition, became president of the company in 1952 after retiring from the Army as a major general after 24 years of service. He was born in Danville, Ohio.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Dr. Harry A. Burke, 65, superintendent of Omaha's public school system since 1946, died Tuesday. Burke, who had been hospitalized since March 21, was born in Pueblo, Colo.

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP) — Arnold Brophy, 35, education editor for Newsday, Long Island newspaper, died Tuesday of a stroke. Brophy, who joined Newsday in 1951 after working for International News Service, was a member of the paper's reporting team that won the Pulitzer Prize in 1953 for exposing labor racketeering on Long Island.

all, why should the Communists bother to start a shooting war? They have won the war without firing a shot.

"And the terrible irony is that it is not the outright Communists who fight and win the ideological battle. It is not even the avowed socialists. It is the gentle Fabians, the suave liberals, the dupes and sentimentalists, who are cynical about the free enterprise and sentimental about collectivism. They are the quicksands of the mind into which we sink."

"What do we need? To turn from the quicksands and to find the granite. What is granite? It is truth, it is reality, it is things as they are in the mind of God. The relativists, the skeptics, the negatives have destroyed much of our sense of reality. We must regain it. In philosophy, in ethics, in aesthetics, we must return to absolutes. And in politics we must return to absolutes. We are not a democracy, we are a republic; we are not a welfare state, we are a government that should uphold free enterprise; we don't want the state to be our policeman from the cradle to the grave, we want freedom, and individual initiative, and what Emerson called the infinite of the private man. And in religion we must return to the granite of reality. We need to say and to act on, the foundation of our Republic—God."

No Record of Returns

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A U.S. tax collector says the government did not receive 1967 tax returns from two persons who allegedly received $18,120 in expense checks from the Knox Coal Co. that year.

Frank Penyak, chief of the Tax Collection Division at Scranton, said in U.S. District Court here Tuesday that there was no record of any tax returns from Louis Melosi or Joseph Boccacini since 1949.

The government said at the start of the seven day old trial for Knox Coal and two individuals on corporate tax evasion charges that Melosi and Boccacini were fictitious names.

Cancer Takes Life Of Film Director

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Michael Curtiz, director of scores of motion pictures including an Academy Award winner, died Tuesday night of cancer, he was 72.

He won an Oscar for directing "Casablanca" in 1943.

Born in Budapest on Christmas Eve in 1889, he had become a distinguished director in Europe by the time he came to this country on July 4, 1927.

He was with Warner Bros. more than 20 years, directing 74 pictures for that studio alone.

Innocent Plea Is Entered by Doyle To Charge Today

A 41-year-old electrician today pleaded innocent before City Judge Joseph D. Saccomano to a charge of exposure of person and received an adjournment until Saturday at 9 a. m. Thomas Doyle, of 16 Valley Street, was released on $1,000 property bond.

Doyle was arrested this morning by Sgt. Thomas Tomshaw and Patrolmen Floyd and Vincent Eckert, who charged the act took place in Doyle's pickup truck on Broadway as the defendant looked at two teenage girls across from the truck.

Sherwood E. Davis, attorney, appeared for Doyle, waived the reading of the information and asked for the adjournment for investigation.

N. Y. Ranks First In Cigarette Tax

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department report showed today that the states of New York, Texas, Pennsylvania, California and Michigan ranked in that order last year in the amount of taxes collected on cigarettes.

New York collected $129 million, Texas $92 million, Pennsylvania $66 million, California $65 million and Michigan $64 million.

Three states do not tax cigarettes—North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 tobacco producer, Colorado and Oregon. Total cigarette taxes collected by states last year was $986 million.

Politics Stinky at Times

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Asst. Dist. Atty. John Benavides reported ruefully Tuesday that politics can become a pretty stinky affair.

A candidate for a county court-at-law post, Benavides explained that he stepped on the tail of a skunk while tacking up campaign posters.

In an unsuccessful attempt to get away from the angry animal, Benavides said he tore his clothing on a barbed wire fence.

It really didn't matter, though, because he had to burn the clothes after changing them in the garage. He said his wife wouldn't let him in the house.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A funny thing happened to NBC's "Tonight Show" during the week after the king of the insomniacs abdicated. The size of the audience remained just about the same as it was during Jack Paar's long reign.

According to estimates of the American Research Bureau, a rating service, the "Tonight Show" last week, in the temporary custody of Art Linkletter, rang up a score almost identical to the weekly ratings Paar achieved—under quiet conditions.

Paar's rating during the last week he was on the program was a couple of points higher than his normal average. But that was because the viewers of his final show were almost double the usual number.

That Linkletter has been able to keep a large number of the population awake—or at least has kept a lot of television sets turned on into the midnight hours—perhaps will come as a great disappointment to the rabid Paar fans, and to Paar himself.

My own explanation is that many people are still watching purely from habit. Over the years, they grew accustomed to the Paar show and now find that it's impossible to turn off their sets and go to bed after the late news.

Add to these creatures of habit the large numbers of feminine viewers who have made Linkletter a successful daytime performer over the years, and the result is a sustained rating.

Recommended tonight: "American Landscape," NBC, 9-10 (EST)—folk music and folk lore in a special with Burgess Meredith, Chuck Connors and Phil Harris.

Ned Galentine Slated to Race Again at Monticello Raceway

MONTICELLO — Austin Galentine will be on the scene for the full racing season when Monticello Raceway opens its fifth campaign on May 31 for 99 nights and two afternoons through September 22.

Mrs. Bessie Clukey, mother-in-law of Galentine and his principal owner, is requesting stall space for 23 horses. Mrs. Clukey wrote in part "We are again looking forward to racing at Monticello for the full season." She has already rented a season's box seat at the track and made living arrangements for the summer near the Raceway.

Galentine, 30-year-old resident of Harrington, Delaware, was the third leading dash winning driver at the Mount M last summer. He won 24 starts, trailing only champion Harold Dancer Jr., and Frank Popfinger in most victories. Galentine won 55 races overall in 303 starts and had a winning average of .317. His horses won a commendable $85,334.

Scotch Abbe rates as the leader of the Galentine stable. Twice a winner at Roosevelt this year, Scotch Abbe may turn out to be the track's steadiest campaigner. Some observers feel Scotch Abbe will succeed the departed Irish Grattan as Monticello's "Goliath" among the aged paces.

A Good Record

Galentine reined Scotch Abbe to 13 wins and four seconds and thirds last year. The Gene Abbe five-year-old banked $25,173 for Mrs. Clukey last summer. Scotch Abbe has a 2:01 mark on a mile track.

Cimbee is another Galentine horse to watch. As a three-year-old, Cimbee paced a 2:04.2 mile and was a winner four times. Cimbee, too, has won a race on the metropolitan circuit.

Other reliable in the barn are Winbee, a lifetime winner of $52,160; Rexbee, holder of a 2:02.2 career mark, and Foxy Vernon, twice a winner at Roosevelt in the early going.

Backing up this trio will be familiar names to Monticello patrons as Guybee, Afton Claudia, Herb C., and Earl Reward. The latter posted seven triumphs in 1961 and earned $7,831. Herb C. is one of the few Clukey horses who isn't tagged with a "bee" on the end of its name.

Galentine is expected to make a strong run for the driving title. With horses like Scotch Abbe, Winbee, Cimbee and Foxy Vernon, the New England-born reinsman is in good position to take it all.

Highland Has Veteran Talent For Baseball

With two hurlers and a catcher returning from last season, Highland High baseball coach Bob Relyea feels his club will be a contender for UCLAL honors.

The team had a 7-3 mark in the season in 1961, trailing only champion New Paltz.

Back from that squad are number one hurler Fred Ellis and second chucker, Randy Ferguson. Tom Gruner, the ace catcher, is also back. Others returning for duty are third baseman John DalVecchia and outfielder Bob Corso. Utility returnees are first baseman Andy Manca, infielders Bill Mertes and Ed Cappillino.

Jayvees who have been moved up are hurlers Carl Rutigliano and Bill Cappillino, infielders Frank Passante and Vincent Lauletta and outfielders Richard Nordone, Ed Wichman, Steve Sorce, Jack Skipp and Dave Butler.

Highland will open its season on Friday, entertaining Ontario in a league struggle. There are 17 games carded, 11 of them on the road.

Leafs Confident After Easy 4-1 Win Over Hawks

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs are brimming with supreme confidence in their Stanley Cup series against the Chicago Black Hawks after a surprisingly easy 4-1 opening victory over the defending champions Tuesday night.

"I don't know why," said Toronto Coach Punch Imlach after the game, "and this may sound surprising, but I wasn't as worried about this game as I was against the New York Rangers."

Toronto reached the finals by whipping the Rangers in six games while the Hawks marched through with a six-game victory over Montreal and did it by winning the last four in a row.

The Maple Leafs, holding a one-game lead, have a good chance of making it two straight on their home ice Thursday night before going to Chicago for games Sunday and Tuesday.

"One game doesn't make a series," said Coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago. "We'll be back." Except for holding a 1-0 lead at the end of the first period on a goal by Bobby Hull the Hawks never looked like the team which swept past Montreal.

Toronto tied it at 1:32 of the second period on a goal by Dave Keon and went ahead for good at 13:54 of the same period on a score by Frank Mahovlich. Goals by George Armstrong and Tim Horton in the final period clinched the game.

Dodger Opening Very Successful Except for Loss

LOS ANGELES (AP) — All things considered, the opening of the Dodgers' new stadium in the vast acres of Chavez Ravine turned out much better than the prophets of doom had predicted.

For one thing, "the most horrendous traffic jam" in the history of a city famed for traffic tie-ups failed to materialize.

The 52,564 fans managed to get into the huge stadium without too much delay but the big surprise was that they were able to get out without spending what Police Chief William Parker had warned might be a three-hour ordeal.

One photographer for a national magazine was assigned primarily to take pictures of traffic snails. He reported his was unable to find any major problem after the game.

There was no question that fans were groping from tier to tier trying to find their proper section and assigned seats, and undoubtedly many motorists circled and recircled the vast expanse of the parking zones, searching for their proper level.

The seats in the four tiers are painted in hues of yellow, orange, green and blue. The color of a ticket correspond to the color of the correct section.

There are two giant-sized elevators working side by side. The trouble with them was that people got on and didn't know where to get off.

One customer complained he'd been on the lift so long he wished they would serve beer and sandwiches on the thing.

Lakers Take 2-1 Lead Over Celts In NBA Playoffs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There are signs that the Boston Celtics' mastery of the National Basketball Association is ending and that the fourth straight championship they seek may elude them.

The up-and-coming Los Angeles Lakers took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 NBA championship playoff series Tuesday night on a daring steal of a Boston pass with three seconds to go. It gave Los Angeles a 117-115 victory in the Sports Arena.

Jerry West, sensational Laker guard, snatched an in-bounds pass thrown by Sam Jones and intended for Bob Cousy. Anticipating the throw, West flashed in front of Cousy just as the ball was about to reach its target.

In one sweeping motion, West started ed dribble that he continued the 45 feet to the basket, where he sank a lay-up just as the gun sounded.

Just before this sensational play, West had been fouled by Boston's Bill Russell, and his two clutch free throws tied the score at 115-115, with the clock stopped.

Speedway Track Opens Saturday

Stock car racing at its finest resumes Saturday, April 14, at 8:30 p. m. at Victory Speedway in Middletown. Promoter Eno Van Dam has made many changes at the Fair Grounds half-mile oval. All are for the benefit of fans and drivers alike.

Van Dam said, "The one-fifth mile oval in front of the grandstand has been removed and the entire infield has been leveled. A concrete wall on the outside of the track has been extended through the first and second turns. The infield lights in the homestretch have been removed."

Tex Enright will again flag the weekly cards which will be held every Saturday night throughout the season, with special events added from time to time.

Name Joseph Soviero as Head Boxing Committee Counsel

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The new legislative committee that will investigate boxing in New York State has named Joseph F. Soviero Jr., a Long Island lawyer, as its counsel.

Soviero assisted Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carino in a conflict-of-interest case earlier this year.

The appointment was announced Tuesday by the committee chairman, Assemblyman Hayward H. Plumadore, R-Saranac Lake.

Plumadore also announced that the committee's investigation would include a review of activities of the State Athletic Commission. He said the commission would be asked to submit proposals to help avert ring deaths.

The investigation was brought on by the death of Benny (Kid) Paret of injuries he suffered in a defense of his welterweight championship.

Soviero, 37, was one of two friends of Carino who went to Camden, Tenn., to investigate the background of one of the key witnesses against Carino, who was charged with having violated the state's code of ethics.

The case, last January, involved fallout-shelter legislation adopted by the Legislature while Carino was a director of a shelter firm. The Assembly Ethics Committee cleared the Republican Warren C. Adams, the Tennessee witness, contended that Soviero and the other investigator had tried to scare him to discourage him from testifying. Carino denied the contention.

Plumadore said Soviero would be paid about $8,000 a year as boxing committee counsel. Soviero, whose home is in North Merrick is a former prosecutor or the U.S. Attorney in the Eastern District of New York.

Same Way TUCSON, Ariz. (NEA)—Dick Donovan was asked whether he believed any of the young Cleveland pitchers might profit by watching him. "I think that pitchers can learn a lot by watching others providing they depend on the same type of pitches," replied the soft-spoken Irishman. "I learned a lot by watching Bob Lemon. He threw like I do. I might not have learned quite as much watching Bob Feller because he reared back and fired. I'm not that type. In order to be effective, I must keep the ball low. It's as simple as that."

Police Are Ready For Disturbances At Rockwell Talk

NEW YORK (AP)—Police were ordered out in force today for the scheduled appearance of American Nazi Party fuhrer George Lincoln Rockwell at the Bronx campus of the city-run Hunter College.

Rockwell was invited to address Hunter students by a campus group called the "Competency Party." Harlan P. Kleiman, a founder of the group, said he doubts anyone at the college agrees with the Nazi philosophy but that the Nazi leader was invited to amplify his political views.

The United Jewish Survivors of Nazi Persecution has announced plans to picket the campus. The group distributed leaflets calling on New Yorkers to thwart Rockwell's attempts to "celebrate Hitler's birthday" here.

The German dictator was born on April 20, 1889. A second protesting organization is the Nationalist Party, a right-wing group which calls Rockwell's anti-Semitic program a "totalitarian, imported ideology... which only benefits the American Communist Party and America's enemies abroad."

The Hunter student group has also invited Gus Hall, general secretary of the American Communist Party, to the campus. He is scheduled to speak April 25.

Stolen Last Year Masterpieces Are Found in Auto

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — Police reported the recovery from a parked car of eight paintings by Paul Cezanne stolen last August from the Aix-en-Provence Museum.

The masterpieces were valued by officials at $2 million, and the haul was the biggest in the wave of art thefts that swept Western Europe and particularly the French Riviera in 1960 and 1961. Police told an incredible story of the recovery. They said the paintings were found in the back seat of a stolen automobile, carrying false license numbers, that had been left on a Marseille street with one window broken.

Police said they found the car Monday night but left it in place and kept a lookout on it. No one approached the car to recover the paintings.

Because of the unique quality of the paintings and their fame, experts had assumed all along that the thieves would be unable to sell them to a dealer.

An art expert authenticated the recovered paintings. He said they had been stripped from their wooden support frames but were all in perfect condition.

The paintings were stolen from a special exhibit being held in the birthplace of the impressionist master. Most of the paintings had been loaned by museums or private collectors. Unlike most art works in public museums, the Cezannes were insured because they were on loan for a special exhibit.

The most famous of the stolen paintings was "The Card Players" from the Louvre.

The burglars cut through a window and made off with the paintings without disturbing two armed guards in an adjoining room and the director of the exhibition pavilion, who lived in the building.

Syracuse Man Held In Love-Triangle Death
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A 33-year-old Syracuse man has been charged with first-degree murder in what police called a love-triangle slaying of another man.

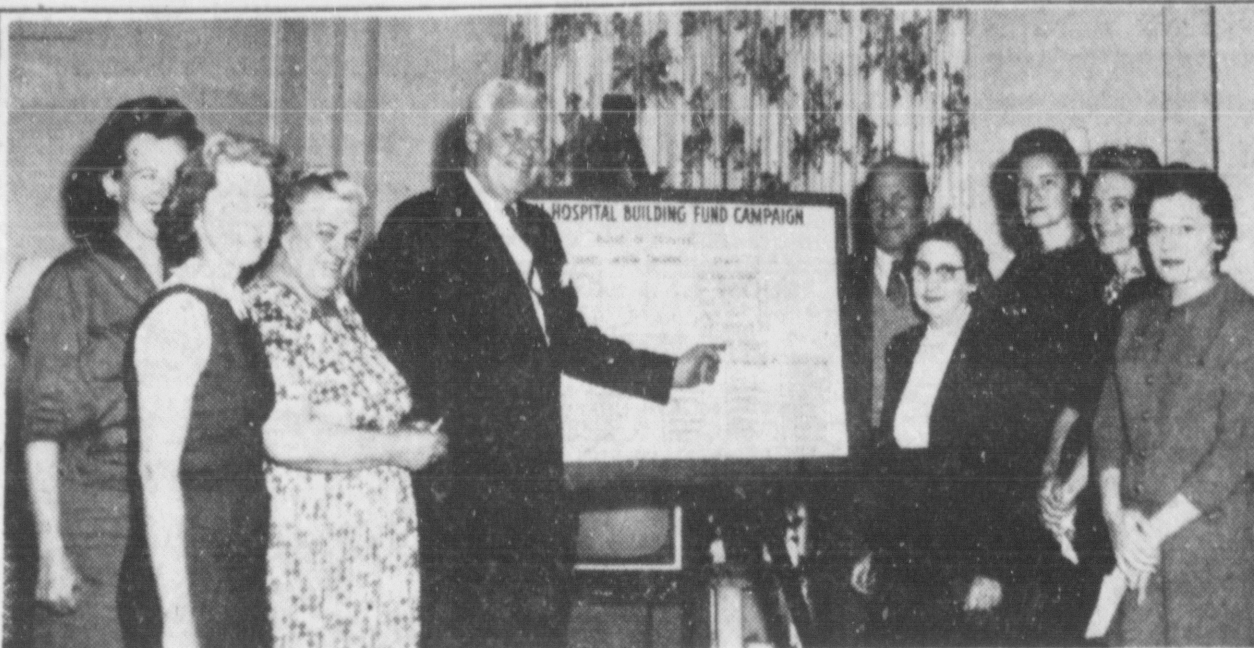

Police said Eugene Cotton had admitted shooting Robert McNair, 36, of Syracuse, in the abdomen Tuesday night with a 12-gauge shotgun. He surrendered at police headquarters about two hours after the shooting.

Police said the two were rivals for the affections of Mrs. Gladys Dixon, 33, in whose apartment the slaying occurred. She was held as a material witness.

Her 10-year-old son, John, also witnessed the shooting.

Police said the killing climaxed an all-day drinking party involving the three Negroes.

Cotton was held in the city jail, pending arraignment.

ORGANIZING KINGSTON CITY CANYASS in current Kingston Hospital Building Fund drive are (l-r) Mrs. Gifford R. Beal, city chairman; Miss Marguerite Meyers, Ward 2 chairman; Mrs. Charles Brand, Ward 4; William R. Darragh, campaign director; Gen. Sherman V. Hasbrouck, Phase 4 chairman; Mrs. Florence Campbell, Ward 1; Mrs. Thomas W. Reynolds, Ward 12; Mrs. Joseph Ambrose, Ward 9, and Mrs. Charles Galyon, Ward 11.

Warming Trend Due by Weekend

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will average near normal. Relatively cool at beginning followed by a warming trend over the weekend. Precipitation will average near a half inch. Some rain at beginning and another period about late Sunday or Monday.

Western New York — Temperatures will average near normal with only day-to-day changes. Precipitation will average one-half to three-fourths of an inch as showers or rain tonight and Thursday, ending Friday. Showers again about Sunday.

Temperature normals—Daytime highs 50-57. Nighttime lows 30-38.

Parents Night Set Thursday at Fair St. School

The Fair Street Nursery School will hold another parents' night Thursday, 8 p. m. The meeting will take place in the library of the Educational Building, 209 Fair Street.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. George Dingee, president of the board of directors of the nursery. Mrs. Dingee will introduce Dr. William Stavsky, a child psychologist from Poughkeepsie, who will speak on subjects of interest to those dealing with young children.

Besides a private practice in Poughkeepsie, Dr. Stavsky is active on the staff of the Dutchess County Mental Health Clinic. He holds a PhD in psychology from Harvard University, is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association and of the American Orthopsychiatric Association and is a Diplomate of the American Board of Examiners of Professional Psychology.

Following the discussion, refreshments will be served in the classrooms, with an opportunity for parents to see some of their children's work and to talk informally with the teachers.

Kennedys Sit Out That Polka Stuff

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine band mixed some lively polka numbers in with its dance music as the Kennedys gave a party for Congress.

About 1,000 senators, House members, wives and other guests turned out Wednesday night for the black tie reception at the White House.

It was rather on the informal side with guests dipping into the buffet and punch bowls before the hosts—President and Mrs. Kennedy—made their entrance down the ceremonial stairway into the lobby.

The Marine band orchestra played in the lobby at the start of the evening. Then the combo played in the State Dining Room and the Marine dance band entertained in the East Room.

There was some pretty sprightly stepping to polka music with the women grabbing their long skirts to get in the fancy footwork. This phase of the dancing wound up with considerable brow mopping and no participation by the Kennedys.

Mrs. Kennedy, in fact, didn't stay at the party long. She and the President came downstairs at 9:55 p.m. and the First Lady left at 10:40. The President, too, left for a while but returned and stayed until shortly after midnight.

Brooklyn Man Is Still Serious, Was In Fatal Mishap

Constant Baptiste, 30, Hull Street, Brooklyn, one of four persons injured early Monday morning in an accident near New Paltz, was reported as still serious at Kingston Hospital today.

The other three persons were reported in fair condition.

Pierre Felix, 39, of 1485 Sterling Drive, Brooklyn, driver of the car, was pinned in the vehicle and died of injuries.

The accident occurred on the Thruway when the Felix car, parked on the driving lane with a flat tire, was struck by a milk tanker, also proceeding north.

Greene Resident Fatally Injured In Tractor Mishap

Charles Williams, 59, of Maplecrest, Greene County, was killed Tuesday afternoon when he fell from a tractor he was operating and the farm vehicle ran over his chest.

Trooper A. J. Petersen, who investigated, reported Williams was working in the front driveway of the John Sepe property at East Jewett when he reached out to operate a lift on the tractor. He fell to the ground and the tractor, still in gear, ran over his chest.

Greene County Coroner Dr. Edwin G. Mulbury, issued a verdict of accidental death.

Enters Guilty Plea In Strangling Man

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Willis Bryant Jr., 24, who pleaded guilty to a charge of first-degree manslaughter in the strangling of a salesman-collector, will be sentenced May 2 in Erie County Court.

Bryant was indicted on a charge Tuesday before Judge Jacob A. Latona.

He admitted strangling Samuel Yochelson, 48, and leaving the body on the back of Yochelson's parked automobile last November. A charge of first-degree grand larceny in connection with the theft of $812 from Yochelson was dismissed for insufficient evidence. Bryant faces possible 20-year sentence.

The Latin term used to designate books printed before 1500 is "incunabula."

Congressmen Irked

Freeman Fails To Reply About Ravena Dairyman

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two New York congressmen are indignant because they say Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman failed to reply to their letter of protest over a fine imposed on an Upstate dairyman.

The letter was sent March 29 and signed by Reps. Leo W. O'Brien, a Democrat and R. Walter Riehlman, a Republican. They objected to a $20,899 fine against Jesse Stalker of Ravena, N.Y., for buying cream in five-gallon cans.

O'Brien and Riehlman said the protest had the support of the 41 other New York representatives and Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, New York Republicans.

Riehlman, who has been in Congress 15 years, said Tuesday he could not recall any previous instance in which a cabinet member had left a letter from a congressman unanswered for so long.

He said he and O'Brien had agreed to send a second letter to Freeman. O'Brien warned that unless what he termed the injustice to Stalker were rectified, the Kennedy Administration's farm program might be in trouble.

Stalker was fined for buying cream in five-gallon cans during September, October, and November of 1958, a practice the Agriculture Department said was illegal.

He could have avoided the violation by buying the cream in smaller containers, the department said.

Stalker's producer-handler certificate also was revoked. This means that his milk must go into a dairy pool in which federal milk marketing orders would apply. He had been exempt from the order.

The answers to everyday insurance problems* by HERMAN J. EATON, C.I.P.

QUESTION: My next door neighbor dug a ditch for a wall foundation and cut some roots that killed a tree in the yard of their neighbor on the other side. Will Comprehensive Liability Insurance pay for the tree?

ANSWER: Yes, that's property damage and would be covered by the insurance you mention.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
